TRUMAN TO ASK NEW TAX BOOST

Escaper Nabbed In Robbery

Admits Hold-Up At Akron

An OSR escaper, identified as the hold-up man in an armed robbery of an Akron drive-in restaurant last night, was captured in New Philadelphia early today in a car stolen from GBU park Sunday night.

The escaper, identified as LeRoy Edward, 21, who escaped the farm dormitory at the OSR Sunday, was captured in company of two other Akron men who allegedly participated in the robbery.

Akron police, who have asked for Edward's return to stand trial, said the $106 robbery occurred at 11 p. m. yesterday at the Dianna Lee drive-in near the Akron airport.

Prosecutor Harold Lutz said he would issue a warrant charging auto theft to be used as a detainer against Edward.

Sheriff's officers at New Philadelphia notified deputies here today of the capture and said that the car, stolen from the park, was still in running condition. The car, owned by Edward G. Kirk, Ashland, R. D. 1, was reported missing from GBU park about 10:40 p. m. Sunday.

8TH CAPTURED

Edward, a native of Akron, was received last April 16 to serve one to 25 years for armed robbery. He is the eighth fugitive to be captured of the 12 who have escaped in little more than two weeks.

Arthur L. Glattke, chief of the State Division of Corrections, described the runaways as "seasonal" and nothing to be alarmed about.

The 12 escapes in the last two weeks, Glattke said, "just happened to be bunched together."

Expressing "full confidence" in the administrative ability of the reformatory's acting superintendent, George Allerding, Glattke emphasized that the number of walkaways from the reformatory so far this year were 42 fewer than at this time last year.

To date 102 inmates at Mansfield have walked away, against 144 last year at this time.

Glattke, who was superintendent of the reformatory until appointed to head the new division in the Department of Welfare, said the number of walkaways was not unusual in view of the fact that 2355 inmates are housed at the reformatory and its five honor camps.

He said he planned no action to tighten the security at Mansfield.

Meanwhile, two reformatory parolees were being returned to the OSR today after their arrest in Huntington, W. Va., on a charge of attempted breaking and entering, the same charge on which they had served time at the institution.

The men are LeRoy West and Freeman Watkins.

Cold Expected To Skip City

Mansfielders today were assured continued above-normal temperatures for at least the next few days.

The weatherman said effects of the heavy snowstorm in the Rocky Mountain area would not reach Ohio. He said the cold wave, which has brought heavy drifts and sub-freezing temperatures to the western states will not reach this far east.

Yesterday a high of 74 was recorded in Mansfield at 3:30 p. m. and today's low was 49 at 2:30 a. m. The temperature already had risen to 69 at 10:30 a. m. today.

Today's forecast is for considerable cloudiness and mild weather with a high of 70 to 75, followed by scattered light showers in the west and north portions by night.

City Plans Rousing Send-Off For Massillon-Bound Tygers

Players on the Mansfield Senior high school football team will get two big public sendoffs before they leave town tomorrow for their all-important date with the Massillon high gridders.

Tonight fellow students from Senior high will stage a rally at Central park. Tomorrow at 10 a. m. an automobile caravan will escort the Tygers out of town on their trip to possible football riches. A victory over the Massillon team tomorrow would put the Mansfield Tygers at the top of the state's football heap.

Massillon won the state title last year and is a heavy favorite to repeat. However, the Tygers have all the necessary talent to turn the trick and if the breaks come their way, the possibility of an upset is imminent.

The big rally tonight will be the second in as many days for the school students. Last night, they had a big bon fire at the east end of Arlin field with hundreds of youngsters paying their "cheering" homage to the Tyger gridders.

Tonight's pep session which starts at 8:15 p. m. will have the crack Marching Tygers and the cheerleaders as the ring leaders. In the interest of safety there will be no snake dance before or after the pep rally.

"The police department and everyone else is back of the team just as much as the kids and we want them to have a big rally at the park, but for safety's sake no snake dancing will be permitted," Police Chief Jesse Schwab said today.

STUDENTS ACTIVE

Tomorrow morning, the students have scheduled another big yell gathering at the school. The team will leave in buses, escorted by police and the automobile caravan, which will travel east on Park Avenue and out Route 30.

"We would like everyone in Mansfield who can get away at 10 a. m. to line Park Avenue, both east and west, and give the kids a rousing cheer as they head for Massillon," a Tyger Booster club official requested today.

At least 6,000 Mansfielders will be in the stands for the game in Massillon tomorrow. George Sherman, Tyger ticket manager, said this morning that 5,150 tickets have already been sold here and that another 300 reserved seats would go on sale tomorrow at the high school.

Still remaining in Massillon today were 2,500 reserved seats. Just before game-time tomorrow 5,000 end zone general admission tickets will be placed on sale. Estimates of the crowd range from 18, 000 to 20,000. The

Sad Father Describes Killer Son

Wanted Car, Hated School

By MARGUERITE MILLER

A grief-stunned father told today of the abuse he and his slain wife suffered in return for the love and advantages they showered on 18 - year - old James Nairy.

The youth, taken from the Richland county Children's Home when almost three, has been charged with the first degree murder of his foster mother, Mrs. Iva M. Nairy, 56, who died shortly before noon Tuesday after being beaten and shot by her adopted son in the backyard of her Cleveland suburban home.

Fairview Park police officers were scheduled to arrive in St. Louis, Mo. today to bring back the youth who confessed yesterday after capture that he shot his foster mother five times after she struggled to her feet, still dazed from a blow on the head from the butt of his .22 calibre pistol. Cleveland authorities said the youth would be psychoanalysed upon his return.

"I wanted to drive her car and she wouldn't let me," the adopted son told St. Louis authorities in the confession."

Today, Louis J. Nairy, Cleveland high school teacher, remarked that "automobiles were his downfall. He was perfectly happy when he was driving one and he was furious if he was denied the car."

Nairy and his wife were 41 when they sought a child to share their home in 1933. The boy to whom they gave their name was the "only adoptable boy in the home at the time," the father said.

"We knew he didn't have the best of backgrounds, but I always felt that environment was a stronger factor than heredity. I guess I was wrong."

Probate court records in Richland county courthouse show the youth was born out of wedlock in the Salvation Army home in Cleveland and that his mother was committed to the feeble minded institution in Columbus a year after his birth. She was termed an "incorrigible, improper and immoral" delinquent on juvenile court records here. Records also show that the mother was mentally inferior and had first come to the attention of the court at the age of 15 when she allegedly stole pencils and loose change from desks at Shelby high school.

Shortly afterwards, the mother's family moved to Mansfield.

Face Lower Jail Terms

NEW YORK — (AP) — The 11 convicted communist leaders come up for sentence tomorrow, facing no more than a possible five years in prison and fines.

Most people had thought they could get up to 10 years.

However, a revision of the Smith act carries a maximum penalty of only five years for conspiracy. They also can be fined up to $10,000 each.

Apparently, the revision escaped even the defense attorneys. Throughout the nine-month trial that ended Oct. 14 they spoke of the maximum prison penalty as 10 years.

The Smith act forbids any one to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government. The 11 defendants were convicted by a federal jury of conspiring to violate the act.

(Gus Hall, Ohio communist party chairman and one of the 11 Reds convicted by the federal court, boasted over Mansfield radio station WMAN shortly after his indictment that there were at least 100 communists in Mansfield.)

AUTUMN SCENE NEAR MANSFIELD—It may have been a scene such as this autumnal view of a Richland county cornfield that inspired James Whitcomb Riley to write: "O, it sets my heart a-clickin' like the tickin of a clock, when the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock." For residents of this area agree that the past few weeks have brought the finest autumn weather within memory and picture postcard scenes of exceptional color and beauty. Keats called it, "The season of mist and mellow fruitfulness."

Woodville Demands:

'Where's School We're Paying For?"

Woodville residents will meet tonight at East Mansfield school to find out why a new elementary school hasn't been built for them after they voted for and have been paying on $560,000 worth of bond issues for school construction.

A bond issue of $180,000 was voted in 1945 and one for $380,000 last year to build a school at Lincoln Heights, a four-room addition to East Mansfield school, 12 additional rooms at Madison high, and a new Woodville school building.

The Lincoln Heights building of 12 rooms and a gymnasium-auditorium, and the four rooms to be added to East Mansfield school have been built. School officials said today approximately $120,000 is left out of the bond money.

The plans for the 12 room high school addition at Madison have been changed to six rooms and the Woodville building has not been built because of the shortage of funds, officials said.

The present Woodville school was built in the last century and has but four regular classrooms and a gymnasium converted to two classrooms.

There are 202 pupils attending the old building which houses all elementary grades except the third. Third grade pupils are driven to East Mansfield school because there is not enough room for them in the Woodville school.

Robert Day, president of the Woodville Community club, called the meeting at East Mansfield school at 7:30 p. m. today.

Members of the school board, Madison Township Supt. Olan La Rue, and County Supt. Boyd Robinson will be present.

Day says the community club will "endeavor to get action on a new school. He urged all Madison township taxpayers to attend.

Cold Front Lashes West

(By Associated Press)

The autumn season's first snowfall continued over western states today and headed for some midwest areas.

The mercury was below freezing over the snow belt and the cold air moved eastward. But mild temperatures were in prospect for most of the eastern half of the country again today.

The snowfall which started Monday in Montana measured as much as eight inches in some parts of the state. There were six inches on the ground in sections of Wyoming. Lesser amounts covered parts of Colorado, Utah, Idaho, New Mexico, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Three deaths were attributed to the cold and snow, one each in Montana, Colorado and Wyoming.

Coolest spots in the snow belt were in Montana and Wyoming —between 15 and 20 above. The western edge of the storm extended to California and temperatures over some parts dropped to near the freezing mark.

Rain fell over midwest states and snow was forecast for northern Minnesota, northern Nebraska and parts of Kansas. The cold air also was expected to send temperatures to near or below freezing over most of the midwest by tomorrow night.

Fund Climbs To $51,525

Industries Division Boosts Pledges

Mansfield's Community Chest drive was climbing slowly toward its 1949 goal today as the total reached $51,525 at noon, an increase of slightly under $9,000 over Wednesday's figure.

The largest increase in solicitation was reported by the Industrial "A" division, headed by Robert M. Myers and Howard Richards, who turned in $4,795 today, making their total $13,665.

They are still trailing the Industrial "B" division, which reported $2 000 gain today, bringing its share well over 50 per cent of the quota. This division headed by Marshall R. Seybold and Roy Waxler, has reported $20 665 on a quota of $36,530.

The Hartman Electric company became the first Mansfield industry to oversubscribe its quota when it turned in $1,306 on the goal of $900, James R. McConnell, drive chairman said. Another firm, the Brandenburg Chevrolet company reported 100 per cent of its employes contributed to the drive which raised $1,000.

The two competitive teams of the company were well on their way toward raising their quotas, as the Feathers, headed by Orlo L. Smith reported $29 501 subscribed on a quota of $67,250. The Stars team, captained by Robert Salsbury, reported $22,024 raised toward a goal of $74,413.

A report from the Advanced Gifts division, headed by George L. Draffan and Avery Hand jr., revealed that 211 of the 468 donors on their lists have contributed an average of 18 per cent over their last year's amount.

The women's division of the drive has slowed down since Wednesday when it reported $4 228 toward a goal of $11,500. Today's reports for this division, headed by Mrs. C. H. Guy and Mrs. Ralph Z. Sorenson, listed only $359 since Thursday.

You Can Get Immediate Delivery of Most Models

Car Salesmen Out Hunting Prospects Again

Mansfield new car salesmen are back on the job with cars to sell.

But if the steel and coal strikes continue, dealers said they'll probably run out of new models again before winter comes.

Car salesmen, who haven't had new models to sell since before the war, are hunting prospects and telling them they can get immediate delivery if they're not too particular about color or style.

The switch from a seller's market to a buyer's market became evident about two weeks ago and the trend has become more pronounced, dealers said.

The only blot on the new car sales picture is the possibility of curtailed production lines should the steel and coal strikes continue beyond the next 30 days.

The Ford Motor company in Detroit announced today that all car and truck production will be halted by Nov. 15 as a result of the shortages caused by the strike, and a company spokesman said even a quick settlement of the crippling walkouts which are expected to spread general paralysis throughout the automotive industry, could not prevent some production curtailment.

One Mansfield dealer who has stocked up on new cars said he expected sales to drop considerably if the strike continues more than 30 days because prospective purchasers will become more cautious about spending money for new cars until they know the effect the strike will have on their financial situation.

Another dealer handling low priced cars has a backlog of about 100 orders which were placed last year when buyers of new cars ordered this year's model. These, he said, would be filled whenever the owners request them, and he doesn't expect the steel strike to affect his sales.

Another car in the medium-priced field is readily available to prospective buyers, providing they don't want five-passenger coupes or two door models, a sales manager said.

This company, however, is still operating on an allocation basis and can sell only the number of cars assigned to it each month. He said rumors persist in his company that quotas will be decreased next month, pending outcome of the steel strike.

Only one Mansfield dealer said his company still finds it a seller's market and "there are plenty of new-car prospects around."

One aspect of the automobile situation in Mansfield meets with unanimous agreement on the part of all dealers contacted . . . the used car market has been dropping steadily in the past few weeks and is still on the decline.

Short Trip Proves Long For Jeweler

NEW YORK —(UP)— John Williams had a lesson in geography today and a new excuse for coming home late.

The spry 74-year-old jeweler flew from Newark, N. J., to Dallas and back to La Guardia field in New York in an attempt to reach his home at Fall River, Mass.

It was just a cross-country mixup, red-faced American Airlines officials apologized after paying Williams overnight expenses.

Big Steel, Coal Talks Bog Down

Auto Industry Nearing Crisis

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman suggested today that labor and management get together and settle the coal and steel strikes in the interest of themselves and the country.

★

(Compiled from Wire Dispatches)

NEW YORK — With coal and "Big Steel" talks proving fruitless, a crisis was seen closing in on the huge auto industry today.

Faced with wholesale shutdowns in the automotive industry because of steel and coal shortages, Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus Ching today made another bid for peace in the steel strike, meeting with "Big Steel" officials.

Ching and two assistants met secretly with John A. Stephens, U. S. Steel vice president and other corporation officials, for five hours yesterday. No announcement of progress was made.

The government efforts to halt the 20-day-old steel strike were made more urgent by the Ford Motor company announcement that its car and truck assembly lines must shut down by Nov. 15 because of coal and steel shortages. This would add 115,000 men to the more than 1,500,000 already idled across the nation by the twin strikes.

The crisis was further heightened by the "hopeless" state of coal industry negotiations with United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Lewis walked out on the talks yesterday and operators wondered today whether he would return. Regardless of his action, observers believed the northern and western mine owners could not settle their contract fight with the UMW without government intervention.

Ching's hopes of making progress with U. S. Steel, the industry pace setter, on the deadlocked pension - insurance issue were not improved by a speech by Irving S. Olds, board chairman of U. S. Steel, at Erie, Pa., last night.

Olds accused Murray, President of the United Steelworkers (CIO) with "distorting" the strike's real issue which Olds said was the unwillingness of the industry to "agree in advance that it will pay the entire cost of social insurance and pensions."

Lauren Bacall Suspended By Warner Studio

HOLLYWOOD —(INS) —Lauren Bacall, screen "tough guy" Humphrey Bogart's wife, has been suspended by Warner brothers studio for refusal to appear for rehearsal on a new picture.

The action was announced last night in a statement by executive producer Jack L. Warner as a warning to others whose temperaments upset studio schedules. Warner's statement said:

"This is no time for players to ignore an opportunity to appear in a worthwhile picture. Every refusal to work affects the livelihood of many other individuals."

Warner said Miss Becall ignored orders to appear for rehearsals scheduled for "Storm Center" on both Tuesday and Wednesday.

Miss Bacall, whose husband recently was the center of another controversy — involving a toy panda and an attractive model in a New York night club — declared she was "impressed" by Warner's statement, but did not appear overawed by it.

Would Wipe Out Deficit

Claims He's For Economy

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman declared today that he will ask the next session of Congress to increase taxes to wipe out the multi-billion dollar government deficit.

He told a news conference flatly that money would have to be obtained to meet government expenses, and that he knew of no way to obtain it except to increase taxes.

The President did not indicate how much of a tax increase he will request. He asked the 1949 session, however, to boost corporation and individual income levies by four billion dollars a year.

Congress refused to act on his request this year.

WILL SEEK REMEDY

Mr. Truman said emphatically that he was for economy as much as anybody, and definitely opposed to deficit spending.

And he said he intends to ask Congress when it reconvenes Jan. 3 to provide a remedy to meet the situation.

Asked whether this remedy would include a request for a tax increase, the President authorized quotation of this statement:

"Certainly. We have got to find the money to run the government. That is all there is to it. Period."

In response to other questions the President laughed and said that if anybody knew of any other way to obtain money to put the government on a pay-as-you-go basis except to increase taxes he would like to find it.

"PRACTICES ECONOMY"

Reminded that Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, who has resigned effective Nov. 1 as chairman of the council of economic advisers, had said he was concerned about deficit spending, the President replied:

"Who isn't unhappy about it?"

The President said that nobody is more firmly for economy than he is, and that he practices it in the conduct of the government.

He added, however, that the fixed obligations have to be taken care of, and that there is nothing to do about the situation but face it as best he can.

Financial Bill Passed

Congress Sets Arms Fund Aside

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A bill financing the $1,314,010,000 program to help arm non-communist nations sailed through Congress last night after clearing a hurdle which had blocked it earlier in the day.

At one point, House members angered at an amendment the Senate had slipped into the measure, walked out of a conference committee meeting which had been called to reach a compromise.

The bill carries funds for purposes other than arms aid, and it was one of those minor appropriations — a $288,000 item to give Senate office workers a pay raise — which caused all the trouble.

The House members finally agreed to an increase for all but certain gallery employes.

The other money provided in the bill be used for these purposes.

The Atlantic pact nations will get $1,000,000,000 in arms aid, most of it after they approve a defense plan acceptable to this country. In addition, they will receive $450,000,000 worth of surplus U. S. weapons.

Greece and Turkey will get $211,380,000 in arms; Iran, Korea and the Philippines $27,640,000; and another $75,000,000 is set aside to be used at President Truman's discretion in the China area.

Lucas Seeks School Levy Continuance

Board Supporting 3-Mill Replacement

LUCAS — Voters in the Lucas school district will ballot in the November election on a special three mill levy aimed to replace the present three mill levy that expires this year.

The Lucas Board of Education is actively campaigning for passage of the levy that represents about 15 per cent of the total revenue that is used in the school's operation.

They point out that increased enrollment has led to increased expense including the hiring f two additional teachers in the past three years, and that the outlook for expenditure in coming years is little changed

School officials stress that in asking for the levy they are not seeking increased revenue but merely a continuance of the same operating capital.

ROAST LOIN OF PORK

Have backbone loosened from ribs so that carving will be easy. Season with salt and pepper and place with the fat side up, bones down, in an open roasting pan. Make an incision and insert a meat thermometer so that the center of the bulb reaches the center of the fleshiest part of the meat. Put the roast in a moderate oven (350° F) and cook without covering and without adding water. It will be done when the meat thermometer registers 185° F. Allow about 30 min. per lb. for roasting. Make a gravy from part of the drippings and season it with sage.

Plan Rallies For Tygers

last time Mansfield played in Massillon some 7,000 local fans helped to swell the attendance to 22,000.

More than 1400 of the Mansfield fans will make the trip on the special trains sponsored by the 25-year club of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Two trains with 12 coaches each will leave the Pennsylvania station at 5:15 and 5:30 p. m. J. A. Willard, 25-year club president, stressed the fact that ticket holders must ascertain on which train they are to go. Approximately half the tickets sold were marked train No. 2 while the unmarked tickets will be good for train No. 1. Coaches of the trains will be marked with the numbers.

Train-goers have been asked to be at the station no later than 4:45. Refreshments will be served on both trains.

Off-the-street parking of automobiles in the area formerly occupied by the State Highway garage has been arranged. A special police guard will be on duty at the parking area until the return of the trains.

The trains are scheduled to arrive at the Massillon siding a few minutes before 7 p. m. To reach the stadium from the station requires a 10-minute walk. The trains will leave Massillon one-half hour after the game is over.

The Mansfield Rapid Transit company has announced it will have buses at the station when the trains arrive back in Mansfield. They will transport passengers to Central Park.

Bucky Harris Says PC Loop Is Not Majors

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Bucky Harris tossed cold water today on those Pacific coast baseball fans who claim their league deserves to rank with the majors.

"The coast league is a good minor league," the leather-faced veteran said. "It's just what it's rated—a triple-A circuit and no more."

Bluntly, he added: "It's certainly not the majors."

The 52-year-old manager's action in signing a three-year pact to pilot the American league's eighth place Washington Senators was itself something of a reflection on coast league baseball.

Harris gave up one of the best jobs in the minors to take over what may be the worst in the majors.

With a nice salary as manager of the PCL's San Deigo Padres, he also had a live club that was regularly stocked with talent by the parental Cleveland Inidans.

With the Senators—a team that lost over 100 games this past season—Bucky is saddled with an inept squad.

Owner Clark Griffith himself told reporters that all his club needs is "pitchers." He added: "Some infielders and some outfielders. And a catcher."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Woman Accused of Poisoning Parents

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — (INS) — The 28-year-old wife of an Evansville, Ind., business college professor was held without bail today under indictment for the arsenic murder of both her parents.

Pretty Mrs. Clarice Spurlock was accused by a Vanderburgh county grand jury of "unlawfully and feloniously and purposely with premeditated malice administering arsenic to mother, Eunice, and father, Winter Dearing."

Describes Killer Son

Less than a year after the son was born, the child was committed as a ward of the county to the Children's Home.

A study of the Nairy home life made prior to the adoption of the boy, listed conditions as "excellent." Both man and wife were teachers and college graduates, pious and respected in the community.

"Everything was wonderful until the boy was about 14. Then all of a sudden he turned against us, using abusive language and defying us in everything he did.

"He always had a bad temper, but we tried to hold him down and not give him reason to display it. We thought it was a manifestation of adolescence and that he would outgrow it so we tried to be understanding and help him."

The father then told how the boy quit school at the age of 16 and refused to go back.

"We offered to pay his tuition if he'd enroll in another school and he knew we had college planned for him. But he didn't seem to want that — he only wanted to get a job where he could be 'boss' and have a car of his own.

"He always resented discipline of any type — from the police, from his teachers and even from us.

"We gave him a nice home and everything other boys had, but it didn't take. His mother was a fine woman who tried to do everything in her power for him."

The father, who remarked at the murder scene that he never wanted to see his adopted son again, said the boy had run away from home many times and that the family car was denied to him because of court order. Young Nairy at present is on probation for auto theft.

Examined a few years ago by psychiatrists, the boy was pronounced "normal," but that the sole reason for his difficulties was that his home did not satisfy "certain instinctual desires."

Today, the youth testified he didn't know why he shot his mother. "All of a sudden something snapped," he said. "All I wanted to do was knock her out."

Then he added: "Could you tell me how my dad is?. . .I'd at least like to see him again."

Dogs With Built-In Radio Sets Now Aiding Science

CHICAGO — (AP) — Dogs sporting built-in radio receivers beneath their skin are working for science.

And they're doing a good job — although they got off to a bad start by helping interfere with radio reception in Albany, N. Y.

The American College of Surgeons was told Wednesday by an Albany doctor that tiny radio receivers are buried beneath the pooch's skin between the shoulder blades.

These sets are located beneath the approximate area where a St. Bernard reputedly carrys the jug that consoles snowbound explorers.

The general idea of the set-up is this:

The radio receivers are tuned to a particular frequency, enabling scientists to stimulate the dogs' nerves by remote control.

When the radio signal is received, it is converted to electrical energy which is then transmitted over a wire in the dog's body to any nerve the scientist wants to study.

The researchers are using the method to try to match the electrical stimulation of nerves that goes on under both normal and abnormal physiological conditions in the body.

Somewhat similar work has been done using dogs put to sleep with an anesthetic and then stimulated directly by an electric current carried along wires brought out through the skin.

But the scientist making the report said the remote control, radio set-up is a better bet — because it can be used at will as the pooch goes about his daily business.

That is, he does within the limits of a cage he's in.

The actual radio receiver is only an inch and one-quarter in diameter.

When the dogs were all set, the scientists started broadcasting to them on a frequency of 1,000 kilocycles — a frequency which happens to be right smack in the middle of the commercial broadcast band.

"We found," reported Dr. John J. Farrell of Albany Medical college, "that we were interfering with the reception of one of the local radio stations."

Farrell and his associates then made adjustments in their procedure.

They're now carrying on their experiments in an espeically-shielded room "where there's only a dog's chance of picking up signals."

House-To-House Visits Planned Oct. 30

600 Canvassers Will Boost Mission

Plans for a city-wide canvass which will be taken in connection with the Christian Teaching Mission here, Oct. 27 to Nov. 3, were announced in charge of the canvass.

Rev. Roller said at least 600 workers, members of the 19 Mansfield churches participating in the mission, will make a door-to-door canvass of city homes Sunday, Oct. 30.

The census is being taken to determine the church affiliation or church preference of each occupant of the homes which will be visited.

The city's political divisions of wards and precincts will be used in dividing up the homes to be visited among the participating churches. A number of precincts will be assigned to each church in accordance with the number of workers from that church.

Each of the participating churches will supply a certain number of workers. The number will depend on the size of the congregation of the particular church.

Working with Rev. Roller will be a captain from each of the participating churches. These captains will be responsible for getting the required number of workers from their respective congregations.

REPORT TO PASTORS

All reports made by the census takers are to be in the hands of every pastor participating in the mission by noon Monday following the canvass.

For the next three days of the mission Dr. Ralph Holdeman, of Dayton, general director of the mission, will instruct the pastors and workers on how to contact and assimilate non-church members reported in the census.

Census takers will receive their instructions at the general inspirational rally to be held at the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Captains who will assist Rev. Roller include Walter G. Reed, Park Avenue Baptist; Mrs. Louis Jisa, First Methodist; Mrs. D. L. Borchardt, St. Paul Lutheran; Myron Miller, First Christian; Ora K. Koons, First Evangelical United Brethren; Kenneth Cadigan, First Congregational; Henry W. Smith, St. John's Evangelical and Reformed; E. K. Tingley, Main Street Evangelical United Brethren.

E. W. Quinn, First Presbyterian; Rev. E. W. Welch, East Mansfield United Presbyterian; Raymond R. Dent, St. Mark's Lutheran; Mrs. Lyman Moore, St. Matthew's Lutheran; Homer Beck, First Lutheran; Rev. F. D. Barnes, Mitchell Chapel; Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, Mayflower Congregational; Rev. A. J. Payne, Shiloh Baptist; Rev. I. E. Oberholtzer, Church of the Brethren; Rev. S. B. Beauford, Mt. Calvary; and Don Goodman, First Church of God.

Warnings of Danger Ahead

AMONG other things that "do not mix" are economics and partisan politics, so Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, is giving up the job rather than trying to distort facts to fit administration policies.

Recognized as an economist of distinction, Mr. Nourse became frankly outspoken in his criticism of deficit spending, and it is regrettable that his associates on the council, Leon Keyserling and John D. Clark, apparently regarded it as their duty to defend Truman policies, rather than to attempt to enlighten the President in matters of which he is abysmally ignorant.

The wild extravagances of federal government are cause for concern by all sound-thinking Americans and are vastly more important than party politics.

It was Congressman J. Harry McGregor of this 17th district, who, a few days ago, directed attention of Congress to the dangerous road ahead, unless economies are effected, and who warned that if the Truman program is fully followed by Congress "there will be a crash some of these days that will make the depression of the 30's look pale in comparison."

That may be regarded as a Republican view, but it was only a couple of days ago that stalwart Democratic Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer made the startling prediction that, if the present steel strike continues to December 1 it will idle 5,000,000 workers and seriously damage the nation's economy.

According to Secretary Sawyer, strikes and threats of strikes have already changed an upward trend in business and employment, which held almost all summer, and he expressed concern for more than 200,000 small manufacturing firms and additional thousands of service establishments which depend on steel.

President Truman will naturally delay as long as possible taking any step in the public interest which might seem to be in restraint of the "rights" of labor leaders to wreck the national economy to any extent they see fit, but it is gratifying to recall that when a point has been reached at which, in his opinion, "public health and safety" is menaced, the Taft-Hartley law still stands in readiness for use.

Thoughts Turn To Coming Election

EVERYONE in the Mansfield area should know—long before now—that an important election is coming up quite soon—within another three weeks, in fact—and all eligible voters may well be giving some attention to gaining information as to candidates being presented and issues to be decided Tuesday, November 8.

Both political parties have reached the stage of holding meetings and proclaiming the merits of their nominees for various city offices to be filled, and it is hoped that attendance at these meetings will be large, so that voters will become acquainted with candidates and be governed in their choice by judgment rather than partisan bias.

From time to time, within the next couple of weeks, editorial reference will be made to various of the issues that will appear for approval or disapproval on November ballots, but decisions must be made by voters and it is desirable that each gain as much information as possible before it is time to go to the polls.

How Edison's Invention Grew

FRIDAY, October 21, marks the seventieth anniversary of Thomas A. Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp, generally regarded as the beginning of "the electric age."

It also was the beginning of a great industry whose service has revolutionized agriculture, industry, and domestic life. Today there are nearly 40,000,000 wired homes in the United States. The great majority have electric refrigerators, irons, washing machines and other labor-saving conveniences that are virtually considered necessities now—and would have seemed the wildest luxuries not long ago.

Rural electrification got its real start in 1929—a mere 20 years back. At the end of that year, the power companies had brought service to 500,000 farms. Today nine-tenths of all farms have service available and 82 per cent are using it.

Faulty Reasoning About Income

ONE of the arguments recently heard on Capitol Hill in favor of the Brannan plan of farm subsidies is that it would produce $95,795,000 more in national income than would the Aiken law enacted last year. This suggests an interesting view of the nature of national income.

If it were desired to double the money figure of national income, it could be done quite simply by enacting a law doubling all wages and prices for goods and services, all interest rates and taxes and such. Overnight the national income would be doubled.

But it would be meaningless, because only the paper value would have been changed, not any of the material wealth represented by income. It is just as meaningless to speak of increasing national income by market subsidies paid with tax dollars. The figures on the books might be altered, but not one iota would be added to the nation's true income.

Now that a baby has been born on a trans-Atlantic airplane, some additions may be made to qualifications for the position of stewardess.

Judge Medina's Expert Handling.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Judge Medina Underwent Great Ordeal

SOMEONE said at the conclusion of the communists' trial in New York that Judge Harold R. Medina had completed his own prison term at hard labor, with not a day off for his own good behavior. For the good judge has probably suffered a much more painful period of confinement than will any of the guilty defendants. And there is still the chance they will suffer nothing.

For nine months, which included the hottest New York summer in years, Medina matched his patience, self-restraint and intelligence against a noisy, comtemptuous gang of defendants, lawyers and sympathizers whose sole mission in life is to incite violence, chaos and revolt against the law.

At one moment in the heat of summer, the judge says, he was afraid that he had reached the end of his corporeal powers and took an hour or so off for recuperation. But a boundless energy, well known to the thousands of law students who studied under Medina at the Columbia law school in past years, carried him through.

When the trial started last January, it was noted in this column that Medina would emerge from this ordeal as a truly notable public figure. His great resources were well known to his faculty associates at Columbia and to the bar in New York for years. Among those who passed through the school while he was teaching there were two young men named Thomas E. Dewey and William O. Douglas.

The late Chief Justice Stone was dean when Medina began his teaching. Medina used his excess energy, after his formal Columbia teaching and his large law practice, for a series of short courses for students preparing for bar examinations.

These were held in a large auditorium downtown, and in a few weeks in overtime hours Medina summed up, clarified and made unforgettable all that the students had studied in three years.

* * *

Not a Political Party.

THE communists' lawyers were meeting an intellectual force upon which they had never schemed. Their efforts to drive this judge into an indiscretion or error failed. And, as a final blow, they received well-earned prison terms for undisguised contempt.

The deaths of Justices Murphy and Rutledge greatly increase the chance that the Smith Act, upon which this prosecution rested, will be upheld by the Supreme Court. In the famous Schneiderman case in 1942, Justice Murphy rendered a decision on facts similar to those in this case, although a different law was involved.

Murphy's sentiments seemed to find no great harm and no incitement to force and violence in the activities of a man who had held high position in the Communist party. The current case has found otherwise.

It has been shown to the satisfaction of the jurors and, it may be added, to every other American of good sense who followed the case, that the Communist party is in reality a conspiracy to overthrow the government by force and violence.

It remains now for states, under this interpretation of the law, to outlaw the party. It has no rightful place on the ballot and it should not enjoy the facilities and freedom of our electoral system to promote its sinister designs.

It is silly to fear, as do some so-called liberals, that to outlaw the party would drive it underground. Its evil was, until this trial already underground. It can now be dealt with in the open, punished and extinguished.

The Nation Today

Prefer Larger Schools

BY VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON—The little red schoolhouse is being torn down or abandoned at the rate of several thousand a year.

The U. S. Office of Education says there were 200,000 one-teacher schools in 1916 and less than 80,000 today.

Even so, says Dr. Walter H. Gaumnitz, education office specialist in small and rural high schools, fully 45 per cent of all the schools in the United States are still of the one-teacher type.

Generally speaking, says Gaumnitz, rural school districts are consolidating to establish larger schools with more highly trained teachers.

This involves bus transportation to outlying districts. In 1918 schools transported about 200,000 children. Now more than 5,000,000 children are being transported annually.

In the past 30 years, says Gaumnitz, the number of one-teacher schools has decreased by 90 per cent or more in Ohio, Washington, Maryland and Indiana. On the other hand, fewer than one of every three such schools has been eliminated in South and North Dakota, Nebraska, Illinois and Wisconsin.

"We find nearly 50 per cent of the classrooms of the one-room type in South Dakota and North Dakota," says Gaumnitz.

"In Nebraska and Iowa they still constitute more than three class-rooms out of every 10, and in Kansas, Vermont, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Missouri one or more in four."

* * *

Had Some Advantages.

ALMOST 1,500,000 children still attend the one-teacher schools. Kentucky and Illinois have more than 100,000 pupils attending such schools. Iowa has more than 90,000, and Wisconsin, Missouri and Minnesota each more than 80,000.

"It would not be fair to say that the dwindling of the one-teacher school is entirely an unmixed blessing," says Guamnitz.

"In its day it served the nation very well indeed. It brought the Three R's to every rural community, however, isolated. It formed a neighborhood center, it was near to the farmers' homes, it was organized on the basis of family setting.

"The larger schools are often inordinately long distances from the children's homes.

"Special efforts are required to bring the parents into these more distant schools often enough to aid the teachers in understanding and motivating the educatioin of their children."

And what has happened to the teacher of the one-teacher school?

"She has been absorbed into society," says Gaumnitz. "Many have married, or gone into other occupations. Others have continued their education and obtained jobs in the new, larger schools."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Lewis Annoyed By Conference 'Leak'

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — John L. Lewis was so miffed about a Washington Merry-Go-Round account of his oratory at a recent closed-door session on the coal strike that he ordered his right-hand man, John Owens, to bawl out the southern coal operators for allegedly leaking the story.

Owens carried out his instructions, waving the newspaper clipping at Joseph Moody, president of the southern coal producers.

"We know you leaked the story," protested Owens. "Well, you're talking to the wrong people. These columnists all have their price."

Moody vigorously and correctly denied that he had been the source, but added: "Let's be honest. You were there and so was I. Won't you agree that the story was an honest and factual account of what happened.'

"But it didn't make Mr. Lewis look very good," growled Owens.

"Well, he didn't look good in the meeting," replied Moody.

Battle of the Admirals.

ONE of the angriest men in the battle of the admirals is the under-secretary of the Navy himself, Dan Kimball.

Kimball was invited to an off-the-record meeting of 60 top Navy officers in Monterrey, Calif., Sept. 21. Officially the meeting was a routine review of naval problems, but Kimball sensed something special was going on. For those present included Admiral Arthur Radford, leadoff man in the Navy revolt, together with Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan. Therefore, Undersecretary Kimball made a brief speech, pleading with the admirals to lay their cards on the table.

"If you think we're not getting a fair deal," Kimball said, "then let's speak up. After all, I'm one of your own. I used to be assistant secretary of the Navy for air. I know your problems."

Kimball told the admirals that President Truman had ordered waste removed from the defense spending picture, and that the defense budget would have to be cut two billion dollars by 1951.

"If you feel this is wrong," Kimball said, "speak up. I promise you we'll get a fair hearing. I can walk into Louis Johnson's office any time I want and get a hearing. So now is the time to talk."

The admirals looked down their noses, gave Kimball silent treatment. Yet it was at this very same meeting—without telling the undersecretary of the Navy— that Admiarl Bogan wrote his now famous letter complaining about Navy morale. And it was at this meeting also that Admiral Radford added his postscript to the letter that touched off the powder keg in Washington

Shipping Bonanza.

CAPITOL newsmen were skeptical when Representative Porter Hardy of Virginia announced there would be a complete and forthright probe of the Maritime Commission and its squandering of taxpayers' money on ship contracts.

So many congressional committees have been spreading the whitewash of late that newsmen doubted Hardy would make good his promise—especially since he hails from the big maritime area around Norfolk.

However, the courageous Virginian not only confirmed all that alert Comptroller General Lindsay Warren had said about maritime commission waste, but went even further. Hardy produced evidence showing that the commission had entered into agreements with the U. S. Lines, American Export Lines, and the American President Lines for the sale of six ships for $70,000,000, though the ships had cost the government $150,000,000 to build.

The Hardy subcommittee also found that most of the $28,000,000 being spent for so-called "national defense features" on the six new vessels—at no cost to the purchasers—was an outright gift because many of these features can be utilized commercially in peacetime.

The report, supported by able expenditures committee chairman William Dawson of Illinois, urged that steps be taken to recoup as much as possible of this largesse to the shiplines; also that maritime laws be rewritten to prevent such extravagance in the future.

* * *

Diplomatic Pouch.

RUSSIAN troops are infiltrating into northern Iran in what looks like a new attempt to stir up revolt. The American embassy has cabled the state department that last week 400 Russians, disguised as tribesmen, penetrated into Azerbaijan provvince and distributed arms to the rebel tribesmen in the area. . . The Chinese communist armies are about to win their greatest victory—diplomatic recognition from the west. This week, London and Washington are sending identical notes to the French, Belgian and Dutch governments asking agreement on a list of items that can be traded with the communists. This list is referred to in diplomatic circles as a "non-contraband" list. After agreement is reached on these lists, Britain, eager to trade with the Chinese Reds will extend de facto recognition to the communist regime in China. We'll be the last to act. But we'll recognize too.

* * *

Not What He Wanted.

PRIME MINISTER Nehru of India is irked at the state department for the man-killing tour of the U. S. A. they've arranged.

During his 26-day stay he will see virtually nothing but banquet tables, formal receptions and luncheons. What he really wanted was a chance to get acquainted with the plain people of the United States so he could decide how India should line up in the future.

But the state department disregarded this and arranged for 30 formal parties during the 26 days.

Margaret Rose Ate Here

By INEZ ROBB

BOLOGNA — In recent months, a great deal has been written about Princess Margaret Rose, both as a chip off her old Uncle Davie and as a can-can dancer.

But I believe it remains for me to tell the waiting world that H. R. H. is a trencher man of formidable proportions, with the makings of a gourmet in the grand tradition of her great grandpaw, Edward VII.

I first ran across her gastronomic trail in Venice, but in Bologna awaited the final proof of her capacity and iron degestion.

The guide book said that Bologna was the Italian town in which you came to eat and not to rubberneck. This was just dandy with me, as after my sight-seeing jag in Venice I felt keenly the need of calories rather than culture.

My spouse Add stopped the citroen abreast the first traffic policeman we encountered in Bologna and in his wonderfully fluent G. I. Italian asked the name of the best restaurant in town.

The impassioned torrent of Italian that followed informed the brave American and his wife that without doubt, without the shadow of a question, the finest restaurant in Bologna—and, mind you, Bologna is famed for food—was a place called Pappagallo.

"That means 'the Parrot'", said Add as we left the officer with mutual regards and protests of national esteem.

* * *

More Than Enough.

PAPPAGALLO turned out to be plain to the eye, as good restaurants so often are. Half way down the menu, I saw something called "Filetto Tacchino 'Margaret Rose'."

The waiter hastened to explain that this was breast of turkey, a rare specialty of the house, on which the English princess had dined when she had honored the resturant with her presence in early summer.

She had also commenced her dinner with another very famous specialty of the house, the waiter continued, with the Tortellini Alla Bolognese and she had wound up with Gelato Di Crema Alla Pappagallo.

"Give us the works," said my spouse, in Italian, naturally, and with the lordly gesture of Henry VIII.

The tortillini turned out to be minute ravioli in a sauce of such richness as to call automatically for infusions of bicarbonate of soda. But it was nothing compared to the Filetto Tacchino, a thick slice of white meat of turkey on a thin slice of ham, bathed in a sauce of cream and cheese, and surmounted with a flaky pastry as light as a cloud.

Half way through the filetto, Add gave up. He put down his fork and said "What a woman!" and he was not referring to me.

"Tell the waiter I don't want any dessert, just coffee," I told him.

Add said:

"No snip of a girl can do this to me! I'll eat the ice cream if it kills me."

Well, the truth of the matter is that it almost did. The Gelato Di Crema Alla Pappagallo was a mixture of chocolate and vanilla ice cream of richness like unto Croesus.

"How does she do it!" gasped Add.

"Heredity," I said, as I began mentally to search our luggage for the soda tablets.

We had intended to drive to Florence today. But discretion is the better part of digestion. So we have settled down in Bologna to sleep off our eating jag.

"I'll bet she can digest tacks," Add said a few minutes ago as he took two more soda tablets.

"Yes," I added with womanly bitterness, "and on her it doesn't even show!"

Speaking of Your Health

Headache Has Causes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

HEADACHE is probably the most common of human ailments. Since the dawn of history, mankind has suffered from this discomfort and the chances are that it may be a long time before it will be completely banished.

Modern research, however, has done a great deal to give us an insight into the various types of headache and, when they are understood, much can be done to relieve them.

New Type Headache.

Recently a new type of headache, known as the histamine headache, has been recognized. As a general rule, this headache comes on at night around one or two hours after its victim has fallen asleep.

Together with the headache, there may be watering and inflammation or congestion of the eyes and nose. The pain is severe and continuous and usually affects the temples, the neck, and face.

Many times, the symptons last only a short period of time, about an hour, and may be relieved when the patient stands up or sits up. Between the headache attacks there are no symptoms.

Method of Treatment.

It seems quite certain that such headaches occur because an excessive amount of histamine is formed in the body. A small amount of this substance is always present, even in normal people. In persons who are allergic to oversensitive, excessive amounts of histamine may form in the body during an allergic attack.

A method of treating these headaches has been developed by giving injections of histamine in small amounts under the skin twice a week, for a period of six weeks.

The dose injected is gradually increased, but an amount large enough to produce a headache is not injected. By means of these injections, the person's sensitivity to the histamine is reduced and the headaches become less frequent.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

SCOTLAND YARD has two men here tracing the source of nylons smuggled into London. . . . Reportedly they are having an undermining effect on the underpinnings of socialism.

* * *

Just when Attlee is calling on the girls to be like Joan of Arc they're all trying to be like Joan Leslie of Hollywood.

* * *

But an attractive girl can be patriotic and still not want to appear austere around the ankles.

* * *

I suppose the investigation will go down in the books of Scotland Yard as "The Case of the 15 Denier Dissidents" or "Sheer Affrontery to the Government."

* * *

If the smugglers are found they will be tried under the Articles of War and if that won't work the government will catch them on black market practice in the articles of wear.

* * *

Attlee would be smarter if he would let nylons enter the country openly . . . because Britain is on its knees doesn't mean that nobody looks at its garters.

ODD FACT.

The chemical elements composing the average human body would be worth only about a dollar at commercial prices.

As Others See It

About Time

Word from Washington says that the Selective Service System has launched a drastic retrenchment program, as a result of which it anticipates spending only 8½ million dollars in the fiscal year 1950 instead of the nearly 17 millions requested in President Truman's budget. It is, indeed, high time.

Plan Work Start On Pipe Lines

Schedule Russell Road Job Next

Mansfield water department will lay new water lines on Russell road and Greenlawn avenue within the next few weeks, O. C. Kalbfleisch, waterworks superintendent, announced today.

The six-inch pipe will be laid as soon as the crew is finished laying pipe on Bentley street, he reported.

Lines, 570 feet long, will be laid on Russell road between Shepard and Austin roads. On Greenlawn avenue, 350 feet will be laid between Jeannette and Bowers avenues.

Lines are being laid in anticipation of new housing to be erected on these sites in the future, Kalbfleisch declared. The pipe on Bentley street is being laid because new and bigger lines are needed.

The water department already has laid pipe on North Mulberry street, Lawnsdale street, and West Burns street.

Condemned House Now Is Memorial

THOMASVILLE, N. C. — (U. P.) — A house once condemned for its age now may be saved for the same reason.

The house sits in City Memorial Park here and is thought to be at least half a century older than the town.

Built of two-foot logs joined and pegged, the five-room building has a chimney made with bricks reportedly brought from England.

No one knows its exact age but research indicates it has been standing for at least 150 years.

Park officials who had it condemned have decided to keep the structure as an example of early building methods.

Girl Scouts Plan Hayride

Mansfield Senior Girl Scouts and their guests will attend a hayride and square dance Saturday evening.

Approximately 100 young people are expected to meet at Bowman school at 7 p. m. Saturday for the hayride to Camp Niniwan, Girl Scout camp.

Robert Eggerton will be the caller for the square dance at the camp.

The girls will take box lunches, and soft drinks will be furnished by the Senior planning board.

The group, accompanied by Senior Scout leaders, will return to Bowman school following the dance.

Kansan Continues Probe On Lustron

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Cole (R-Kas) said yesterday he will continue a "vigorous pursuit" into affairs of the Lustron corporation of Columbus, O., manufacturer of procelain-steel prefabricated houses.

Cole, who introduced a resolution 10 days ago calling for a congressional investigation of government loans to Lustron, said he wanted to know the "real facts" about Lustron.

College Students End Brief Strike

BOWLING GREEN — (AP) — Students at Bowling Green State university went back to classes today, their "strike" against university regulations over and their grievances placed before the proper authorities.

The students withdrew most of their demands yesterday, and at a quiet, orderly meeting in the stadium last night drew up a list of complaints to be presented to the student senate and Dr. Frank J. Prout, university president.

Convicts Build New Huntsville Stadium

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. —(UP) — The largest stadium ever built for use of prison inmates is located within the walls of the state prison here.

The stadium, incomplete, now seats 30,000 persons. It will hold 40,000 when completed. It was built and paid for by the prisoners.

Indict Officer

LANCASTER — (AP) — Patrolmen Everett J. Brown of Lancaster yesterday was indicted on two counts of extortion. He is charged with receiving cash "kickbacks" from two local merchants in connection with the purchase of leather coats and police radio equipment.

File Charge With NLRB

CANTON — (AP) — AFL union drivers and mechanics filed unfair labor practice charges Wednesday against Canton city lines, accusing the company of refusing to negotiate in spite of a strike deadline set for Saturday midnight.

The charges filed with the regional National Labor Relations board office in Cleveland claimed the company refused to bargain in good faith and delegated its duties to National City lines of Chicago, the parent company.

The last negotiations ended Saturday with the union demanding 20-cent hourly pay raises and fringe benefits for 116 drivers and 32 mechanics. The company proposed to cut wages five cents hourly. Drivers now receive $1.32 an hour and mechanics $1.52.

Both the union and company agreed to meet with mayor Carl Klein today in an attempt to avert the strike. They also have agreed to meet Friday with federal conciliators.

U. S. Entering Pork Business

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Agriculture department officials are estimating that the government may have to buy 800,000,000 or more pounds of pork next year under farm price support operations.

This estimate is based upon the assumption that the government will continue the present policy of supporting hog prices at 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices, designed to give farmers a fair return in relation to the cost of things they must buy.

Much of this pork, if bought, would have to be sold abroad, inasmuch as it could not be sold back into the domestic market without depressing hog prices below guaranteed levels.

Blast Russian Stand In UN

Yugoslavian Candidacy Sparks Row

U. S., Britain Flay Vishinsky

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(UP)—Russan Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky's attempt to block Yugoslavia's election to the United Nations Security council was condemned Wednesday by American and British authorities.

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Acheson made it clear the United States would continue to support Yugoslavia's candidacy despite Vishinsky's veiled threat at a news conference Tuesday that Russia might walk out of the Security council if Marshal Tito's regime was successful in defeating Czechoslovakia, the Kremlin-supported candidate.

Acheson said Yugoslavia's bid for a council seat was in no wise illegal as charged by Vishinsky.

At UN headquarters, Porter McKeever, American delegation spokesman, denied any agreement had been reached, as Vishinsky said, that the council representative from Eastern Europe should be only a candidate selected by Eastern European states. Vishinsky implied such an agreement had been reached in 1946 at the UN preparatory commission meetings at London.

Both Acheson and McKeever said the United States supported Yugoslavia's candidacy because it is an Eastern European Slavic, communist state which Washington considers preferable to Czechoslovakia.

"We are not terribly concerned in the outcome of Thursday's election either way," McKeever said. "The U. S. is not involved in this campaign. Far from Yugoslavia being a candidate of the U. S. we were surprised when Yugoslavia announced its candidacy and we did not declare our support until some time later.

Observers here and in Washington regarded Vishinsky's veiled walkout threat as an election bluff and were prepared to see it called.

Officer, Men 'Capture' U. S. Capitol Hill

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Lt. Frank Porterfield of the Washington National Guard would be the first to admit today that it's a lot easier to capture the capitol than it is to hold it.

He ought to know, too, The lieutenant "invaded" Capitol Hill Tuesday night with a platoon of 50 white-helmeted guardsmen and 10 jeeps. They mounted a machine gun on the capitol steps and beat the bushes for "enemy" troops.

"It was like having the gestapo move in and take over," said a woman onlooker later.

Just when Porterfield and his men appeared to have the situation in hand, Capitol police emerged from the building. They arrested the lieutenant for trespassing on government property, and dispersed the troops.

Haled before Senate Sergeant-At-Arms Joseph C. Duke, Porterfield apologized abjectly. He explained that he had thought up the "invasion" all by himself as a maneuver for his national guardsmen.

Psychologist Backs Modern Adolescents

CHICAGO — (UP) — A Pittsburgh university of Chicago psychologist classes present-day adolescents as "outcasts."

"We do not use them economically, politically or socially — with the exception of war periods," Miss Bernice L. Neugarten says.

Miss Neugarten believes, too, that teenager often finds in his parents "inconsistency which often surpasses his own inconsistency."

Adolescents, she says, seek two things: "Understanding and respect for their personality."

Crommelin, Judge Medina Lauded For Strict Adherence To Ideals

Duty is a majestic word—harder than diamonds—and more rigidly fixed than the North Star. . . . Duty can single out a man on a Federal Bench—or on the bridge of a stricken ship.

This is a study of both and of two great Americans, Judge Harold R. Medina of the United States District Court and Capt. John S. Commelin of the United States Navy.

Though under the heaviest barrage of personal abuse and mistreatment, Judge Medina defeated the Moscow propagandists by giving the communist defendants a fair trial.

While the communist lawyers, working in relays, tried to goad him into a mistrial (through temper or exhaustion)—they did not succeed in separating him from his objective, protection of every right of the ACCUSED.

Judge Medina deserves a civilian Congressional Medal of Honor for standing the cunning insult of enemies beyond human endurance.

P. S.: After he sentences the eleven American Reds Friday morning, we wish His Honor would please instruct the U. S. Marshalls to march the eleven past Miss Liberty on their way to jail.

The Old Gal is entitled to a chuckle, too.

★

Every fighting service has men of equal courage and devotion. And as I reported in a recent Collier's, the "Blueprint for Disaster" is that they are fighting each other. . .This fight cannot be settled by court martial.

It took a Jap warhead torpedo to blast Capt. Crommelin from his bridge. But it couldn't stop him from continuing the fight from the water.

Capt. Crommelin, who fought for free speech, is entitled to at least as much of it was Paul Robeson.

If, under the Constitution Capt. Crommelin is entitled to a jury of his peers, then the only men qualified to try him are wearers of the Congressional Medal of Honor.

Whether or not Capt. Crommelin is mistaken in his ideas, his integrity is beyond question . . .He has offered more than his life for his country. . .He has offered the four stripes on his battle jacket—and not even the Commander-in-Chief has the right to twist battle ribbons into a gag for a war hero.

★

Native communism has suffered a decisive defeat, but it would be folly to consider the guilty verdict as the party's epitaph. . .Democracy emerged triumphant, but the war continues. . .Its battlefield can be labor unions, social groups or your mind.

It cannot be stressed often enough that communism is more than a political party. It is a cancerous idea—and you can't put an idea behind bars any more than you can destroy a man's thoughts by closing a door. . .We reduced German cities to rubble without shattering the nazi idea. It still clings to the minds of most Germans.

Canada outlawed the communist party in 1940, but Canadian communists continued to operate behind the misleading name: The Labor-Progressive party.

Five years after the Reds' party was banned in Canada the front pages on this side of the border exploded with the revelation that the most prominent members of it were engaged in atomic espionage for Stalin & Co.

Admissions, Births Show Decline

Fewer Accident Cases Reported

Admissions and births of General hospital last month showed a drop from the corresponding month last year, according to Wayne Copeland, superintendent of the hospital.

Copeland presented the figures in his monthly report made at a meeting of the hospital board last night.

Total number of admissions for September was 782, compared with 810 for the corresponding month last year. Births dropped from 188 in September, 1948, to 165 last month.

However, Copeland pointed out the total number of maintenance days last month was 5,496, compared with 5,438 for September, 1948. The total number of patients per day also was higher last month than a year ago with 183 reported for last month and 181 for September, 1948.

Copeland explained these figures are higher this year because the average patient's stay was longer than last year.

The number of operations last month was 288, 30 more than for the same month last year.

The hospital superintendent said he was pleased with the fact that fewer accident cases were treated last month than in September, 1948. Last month's figure was 195: a year ago it was 213.

A total of 1,319 babies have been born at General hospital this year up to Oct. 1, a decrease from the 1,343 recorded at the same time last year.

The total number of patient days for the year to date also shows a slight decrease with 49,882 reported this year, compared with 50,502 for the same period last year.

Raps Train Stop Offer

COLUMBUS—(JNS)—An offer by the Pennsylvania railroad today to stop one of its Mansfield-Toledo trains at Bettsville met with strong opposition from the Railroad Brotherhoods and the city of Tiffin.

The latter are protesting the abandonment of Trains 452 and 453 between the two northern Ohio cities. Railroad Attorney Oscar Lingstrand made the offer at the second hearing before the State Utilities commission on a complaint filed by Bettsville mushroom grower Nevin Fry.

Attorneys Paul R. Ebel of Tiffin and Russell Lesure, appearing for the brotherhoods, immediately protested that the railroad's proposed solution would do nothing for other communities along the line which lost all rail service when the two trains were laid off last April.

Lingstrand said the trains had lost his company $100,000 annually and their restoration would mean "confiscation of our property."

He told the commission the stopping of Trains 452 and 453 did not mean complete abandonment of service because the same route was travelled by four other daily trains.

This statement also met with objections from Ebel and Lesure who claimed the service abandonment was complete for many waypoints where the continuing trains do not stop.

Loses Rail Project

Bucyrus Hears Shops To Be In Toledo

BUCYRUS — Hopes for expansion of the New York Central railroad yards here to provide a $300,000 repair and maintenance center for Diesel locomotives were blasted today with announcement by W. N. Clark, NYC trainmaster here, that the project has been transferred to the Stanley yards at Toledo.

A $1,000,000 project already is under way in the Stanley yards to provide a complete Diesel repair and maintenance center for the New York Central, Michigan Central and the Big Four railroads, Clark stated.

Last spring, a delegation of 15 high-ranking NYC officials, headed by NYC Vice President J. R. Brinkman, spent a day inspecting the yards here and informed city officials that the company would spend $300,000 in enlarging the yards and shops here to provide service for Diesel locomotives on the Ohio Central division of the NYC.

Clark said the Bucyrus project was abandoned in favor of the Stanley yards, where the center will service four lines.

The present roundhouse will be maintained here and limited repairs will continue to be made, according to Clark.

Abandonment of the project also means the elimination of job possibilities for some of the city's unemployed as the enlarged shops were expected to require an additional force of 100 workers.

Blames Politics For Charter Defeat

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh in a series of articles to inform Mansfielders about the charter proposal that will appear on the November ballot.

BY GAYLORD HAKE

Why did the council-manager plan fail in Cleveland? That is a question that has been asked many times since Mansfield started considering the adoption of a council-manager system.

Spencer Corlett, head of the legislative division of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, told this reporter: "It is my personal opinion that we had a good plan, but politics got into it and wrecked it."

The National Municipal league's report on five years of city manager government in Cleveland states:

"In spite of many difficulties, the city manager form of government, in our opinion, has given Cleveland a better administration of city affairs than in any comparable five years in the city's history." That statement was made before the plan was defeated.

The Cleveland charter provided for 25 councilmen elected by proportional representation method of voting. Councilmen under the charter received $1,800 a year, and the city manager got $25,000 annually.

The National Municipal League's report continues:

"The charter clearly states council shall confine itself to legislation—and neither as a body nor as individual members—shall it interfere with the administration."

"But, the fact is a majority of members of the council have devoted more time to political fence building than to actual legislative duties they were elected to perform."

The first manager, William R. Hopkins, took office on Jan. 1, 1924.

Of his administration the National League says: "There is no doubt in the public's mind that he yielded to outside political, newspaper and friendship pressure in choosing his cabinet."

"But, his later appointments indicated that he now realizes that efficient administration can be attained only by appointing directors solely on the basis of merit and fitness."

5 'GOOD YEARS'

The National League, after giving this dim view, continues that the five years under the manager were better than any other five years in the city's history.

It points to a reduction in the cost of paving the city's streets—from $6.24 a square yard (1923) to $5.52 a square yard (1928), and garbage collection cost per ton from $14.50 to 1920 to $7.41 in 1928.

"The health division has sown a consistent and gradual improvement. Deaths per thousand in 1924 were 10.7; they were reduced to 9.6 in 1928, while other large cities remained nearly constant.

Cleveland newspaperman Richard L. Maher, writing in "Our Fair City" states:

The council-manager system was voted in "when the citizens of Cleveland were greatly aroused by the condition of their city government."

"They were immensely proud of themselves for having solved their municipal ills by taking this new cure in one dose. They didn't bother to set-up a watch dog. They left the plan to shift for itself."

But, the politicians weren't asleep. The Republican leader and the Democratic boss got together and figured out how to beat this newfangled device.

Finally, after three unsuccessful attempts, the Democratic party combined with anti-manager forces, and in 1931 the plan was defeated, when only a relative few number of voters turned out at the polls.

Maher says there were no government policies involved, but it was wholly an issue of personal political interests.

"If anyone has either of the two not in use, we would appreciate it greatly if they would call us at 2162-6. We will be glad to pick up either one," Maj. Jones said. The small bed is needed for a two-year-old child who has outgrown his crib.

The picture hangs on the wall of the big lobby, a symbol of all the boys who find outlet for their physical exuberance in the Friendly House program.

Public Inspects Project

Speaker Lauds Gimbels' Work

BY NITA BRANSON

More than 500 Mansfielders last night accepted the new Friendly House building on North Mulberry street as their own community project, and after a two-hour inspection, called it "one of the finest in the state of Ohio."

The occasion was the dedication of the handsome new settlement house. Open house followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gimbel, directors of the Friendly House, were praised for their service to the settlement house project.

"As Connie Mack is known as Mr. Baseball, so have Russell and Mary Gimbel come to be known as Mr. and Mrs. Friendly House," Rev. Matthew G. Madden said in his dedicatory address.

"Russell and Mary Gimbel are dealing with the eternals, "Rev. Madden continued. "For it is out of this expression here that will come a world of fellowship and peace.

"In all the negative world of chaos and confusion, this place is one little positive evidence that we can build a world in which man can live at peace. For here all faith, creeds and colors work together, a demonstration of inter-nations or international fellowship.

LAUDS SERVICE

"It is this service of two personalities and their work for the common good that gives the clergy the faith and hope to go on."

The brief dedication services were in charge of Mark P. Wolcott, chairman of the board. Prayers were offered by Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church; Rev. Robert H. Ruffing, pastor of the new St. Mary's Catholic parish, who read the "prayer of a patriot" for his country; Rev. Tjanos Gougoutas, pastor of the Greek Orthodox church, and Rabbi Zelig Chinitz, spiritual leader of the B'nai Jacob congregation.

W. E. Slabaugh, president of the Community Chest, of which Friendly House is a Red Feather agency, told the visitors Friendly House always has been one of the most cooperative agencies in the Chest organization.

"Friendly House was a charter member and has always remained a loyal member," Slaugh said, "and we are glad it is in our circle of Red Feather agencies."

Designed by Charles W. Conklin, Mansfield architect and built by Simon Small and Sons company, the new building is the first in the proposed construction program for Mansfield's welfare agencies.

Open house will continue through Sunday. Hours for visiting will be from 2 to 5 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m. each day.

County Fair Proposal Due For Study At Farm Session

In an effort to iron out problems which have prevented holding a senior fair in Richland county since before the war, members of the county fair board have been invited to meet with the Farm Bureau legislative committee Wednesday at 8 p. m. at North Lake park pavilion.

Also invited to the meeting are representatives of Mansfield AFL and CIO councils, as well as independent unions, according to C. Roy Mengert, chairman of the Farm Bureau committee.

Mengert said that the fair board members have been invited to discuss the problems they have encountered in planning a senior fair in order that the Farm Bureau committee may offer assistance on the project.

It also is expected that the group will discuss possibilities of a site for the fair, as well as the proposed $500,000 bond issue, which will be presented for the voters' approval next year. The bond issue would provide funds for the construction of a coliseum building in which to hold fairs as well as recreational events for Richland countians.

Other problems which will be up for discussion at the meeting will be the Anderson bill and other farm programs; the part of the farmer and labor in a consumer-producer market in Mansfield, and parking facilities here, Mengert said.

Farming Chores Simplified By New Cleaning Method

With daily farm chores calling for "a heap of cleaning" — and considerably more elbow grease — farmers are welcoming the finest work-saver and time-saver ever seen. No combination milking machine and robot tractor driver, this! Simply a cleaning compound that sanitizes as it cleans, in many cases cutting work time in half.

Called Wetalene, this revolutionary new cleaning agent has 101 uses: In the milk-house, cleaning milking machines, separators, cans, pails; in the farm home, cleansing faster, more thoroughly, wherever water is used to clean.

Only one tablespoon of Wetalene to a gallon of warm water removes dirt in half the time from milk-house walls and floor. The compound's sterilizing action assures that milkhouse equipment can be kept highly sanitary, using normal procedure before disassembly washing of milking machine parts.

Inside the farm home, a Wetalene solution can be used to wash painted walls, floors, and woodwork in less time than ever before. No rinse is required: only one pail to carry and the job is done faster and cleaner than ever before! Ideal, too, for laundry, dishes, cleaning upholstery and rugs, softening the water as it works.

Wetalene is sold locally at leading food stores at surprisingly low prices: 25c for 1 lb, 59c for 3 lbs.; $1.45 for 8 lbs.

Absenteeism and Job Jumping Prevalent

Empty Benches Haunt Red Peoples' Democracies

PRAGUE — (AP) — The ghosts of idle machines, empty work benches and a ruined economy are haunting the leaders of the 'peoples' democracies' behind the iron curtain.

Communist bosses sum it up in four words — absenteeism and job jumping.

Roared Czech Premier and trade union chieftain Antonin Zapotocky in a recent speech:

"Absenteeism is the shame of every union, region, district, party functionary and worker."

Echoed Alexander Osipov, head of the Soviet delegation to the Czech Trades Union council:

'We have the problems of absenteeism and jumping from one job to another in the Soviet Union."

Dittoed Matyas Rakosi, Hungary's vice premier and communist chief:

'There are factories where the number of sick is twice or three times higher than in prewar times. There is no doubt that part of this is due to slackening of discipline and part to political mischief."

"Discipline among workers is lax," Rakosi said. "Absenteeism is too high. Workers change their jobs too frequently."

The twin problems of absenteeism and job jumping are causing the most concern, however, in Czechoslovakia—the most industrialized of the Russian dominated satellite nations.

Here where officials are tightlipped on every other phase of Czech life, communist leaders have been outspoken in expressing their fears.

They have admitted publicly that the average of absenteeism has jumped alarmingly since they came into power in February 1948.

According to Zaptocky himself 'absenteeism is 37.3 per cent higher in 1949 than it was in 1947.

What is most discouraging is that this absenteeism is occurring where industrialized Czechoslovakia can least afford it—in the mining and heavy metals industries already plagued by a shortage of workers.

Western observers point out that there is very little the communist leaders can do in reprisal.

'They can't fire the chronic absentees because they need them too badly," these observers said. 'It's like it was in the United States during the war."

Youth Posts School Record

STARKVILLE, Miss. —(U.P.)— Billy Burdine hasn't missed a day of school in 15 years—including elementary, high school and college.

The strict attendance has paid off. Billy's grades were 96 per cent.

Pearl G. Burdine of Mathiston likes to tell about the closest his son came to missing school. It was in the second grade.

"His feet got cold in the snow on the way to school, and he came back home. I took off his shoes, put his feet in my back pockets and carried him to school on my back."

Foreign mail flying was inaugurated by a Seattle comany, the Northwest Air Service. It started flying mail from Seattle to Victoria, B. C., Canada, in 1920.

New York City, New York

Gentlemen:

We have been distressed by the possibility that the A. and P. stores, because of unfair accusations, may cease to exist. I wonder if you will see that our letter reaches the proper source, if there is one.

We are farmers, as you know, and not only sell our products, but buy necessary food from local A. and P. stores. We deliver farm produce, daily, to approximately eighteen stores in nearby villages. This includes two A. and P. markets, whose managers very wisely buy on-the-spot, thus saving deterioration due to excess handling, transportation and longer time from the farm to store. Our price to sixteen stores is the same as we get from the two A. and P. stores.

We wondered whether the low prices we see all the time in A. and P. stores might mean that sales people were underpaid. Evidently not, for we have noticed that the same employees stay on year after year, and we know high-school students in our town who have started at the bottom with A. and P. and risen to responsible positions.

Then what is this all about, if the consumers, the salespeople, those who manufacture your brands, the truckmen, the laborers and the farmers are ALL satisfied?

We believe the answer is simple. The A. and P. has developed an organization whose efficiency should be an example to all stores handling food. If this were so, independent grocers could well expect larger profits. The solution is not in destroying something that has taken years to build, but in encouraging all merchants to still further improve the efficiency of their operations.

Very sincerely,
Niles M. Davies
Erma Davies

For 90 years this company has tried to build a sound business on the basis of giving consumers more good food for their money and giving farmers better markets for their products.

It is heartening to know that the public approves of the job we have done . . . to know that our policy of fair, honest dealing has won us the friendship of millions of consumers and farmers.

We will always be grateful to all our good friends who have offered us their help.

We are proud to live in a country where such things can happen.

Meat Prices Edge Higher In Markets

Mercury Drops, Prices Climb

Cooler weather this week in many parts of the country stimulated demand for meat and other foods and helped push prices a little higher.

The lower temperatures also speeded the end of several produce crops like tomatoes which had continued to come from truck gardens near the big marketing centers long after their season normally would have closed. As a result, several produce items rose in price.

Choice beef cuts were generally a few cents a pound higher, reflecting a smaller supply of good feedlot cattle. Choice to prime live steers were bringing their highest prices of the year at midweek in the big Chicago livestock market. And meat buyers said best quality beef probably would remain firm priced at retail for some weeks, then start downward around the end of the year.

Pork prices, which stopped declining last week, held mostly steady despite earlier predictions of a continued downtrend. Market sources said the big run of hogs to market which usually reaches peak volume around the end of October might be delayed this year by farmers taking advantage of low feed prices to put more weight on their animals.

Smoked butts, ham hocks and bacon were marked up slightly as demand improved, and lamb was up two to six cents a pound in many places as supplies continued scarce.

Large top grade eggs held about steady, but the more abundant medium sizes were off as much as six cents a dozen at many markets.

In New York City, a wholesalers' spokesman said housewives need to be "educated" to understand the relative value of eggs by sizes.

"Shoppers don't seem to realize that the quality of both large and medium sizes can be identical yet the large eggs are more expensive in proportion," said Alfred Rich, business manager of the Butter and Egg Merchants association.

"Here in New York you can buy 14 medium eggs for 69 cents. You pay 89 cents for 12 large ones, but by weight you have no more than in the 14 medium eggs."

Tangled Names Straightened Out

DETROIT — (U. P.) — The seven Fantaro children finally have the same last name.

Their father, a native of Italy, gave his five sons and two daughters differently spelled last names when he registered their births.

Juan Fantoro, 34, was the first to appear in probate court. He had his name changed to Fantaro, and the others agreed on that spelling.

Their names had been Fantore, Fornaro, Fanilator, Fantora, Fernetti, and Fernetto.

Inadequate Wiring Costly, Dangerous, Speaker Tells Club

Inadequate wiring is not only a source of danger but costs money in the loss of electricity, Myron Miller of the Ohio Public Service told Optimist club members at their noon luncheon yesterday at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Demonstrating his talk with an electrically-wired panel, Miller declared that with inadequate wiring, one gets less electricity than he pays for because it turns to heat and is lost.

"This heat generation is the source of many fires in homes today," he explained.

Using the wired panel, he showed members how fires are started between the walls of the home as a result of bare wires, overloaded fuses, and too many appliances on one line.

Miller was introduced by Bryce McMahan, program chairman, who announced the next meeting will be held at Richland Recreation next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. It will be an informal meeting with the Ashland club.

President Truman is the thirty-second president of the United States.

Ex-Mansfield Resident Dies

Services were to be held at 1 p. m. today in Cleveland for William G. Godfrey, 69, former Mansfielder, who died at his home in Cleveland Monday evening following a six-month illness. Mr. Godrey moved to Cleveland 33 years and operated a filling station. He was one of the first employes of the old North American Watchcase company plant here.

Rites will be held in the Thomas funeral home, 12505 Miles avenue, Cleveland, with burial in Cleveland. Surviving are his widow, Lillie, and three daughters, Mrs. Kathleen Hudda of Cleveland, and Mrs. Lillian Watterson and Mrs. Eileen Miller, both of East Cleveland.

Riding Enthusiasts Attracted To Show

A number of Mansfield riding enthusiasts are expected to attend the second annual rodeo and horse show at Weikel's Stables, near Elyria, beginning at 12:30 p. m. Sunday. The stables are located on LaGrange road, Route 301, between Routes 10 and 20.

The annual show is sponsored by the Red Jacket Riding club, a group of young riders.

The program will include 12 classes and events with an auction show in which exhibitors and spectators may participate. Refreshments will be served on the grounds.

Spy Story Building Up In Europe

Tangled Case Attracts Attention

PARIS — (INS) — A former State department official, allegedly a leftist, his German-born wife, and his brother, a Cleveland architect are the chief actors today in a modern spy drama developing behind the iron curtain.

Key figure in the sensational case is Noel Havilland Field, 45, one-time State department official, who vanished in Russian-controlled Europe last June. He has not been heard from since.

In supporting roles are his wife, Herta Visser Field, and his brother Hermann. They, too, disappeared abruptly in Eastern Europe during the summer.

The big question concerning Noel Field—assuming he was a spy—is, for whom was he spying? The London-born American, who vanished in Czechoslovakia while presumably en route to Budapest, has been accused of espionage both for and against the United States.

In testimony before congressional spy hunters, Whittaker Chambers, confessed communist courier, charged that Noel Field was a communist cell member.

But at the Recent Budapest treason trial of former Hungarian Foreign Minister Laszlo Rajk—who was executed last week—Field was described as an American espionage agent who organized an Eastern European spy network.

Herman Field, 38, entered the case last July, when he left the U. S. for England. Interested in studying the rebuilding of Warsaw, he was reported in the Polish capital Aug. 22, bound for Prague. But apparently he never boarded the plane, and the State department lost track of him.

Recently, the state department announced it was unable to locate Noel Field's wife, Mrs. Herta Visser Field. She was known to have been in Prague in August at the time of her brother-in-law's scheduled arrival. She had not notified American officials of her own husband's disappearance.

Western 'Likker' Proves Too Potent

SPOKANE — (UP) — Peter Raskouskas, 29 - year-old transient found asleep on the Great Northern Railroad tracks here, told the judge it was the fault of the paint-thinner he had drunk earlier. "I'm from the East," Raskouskas explained. "That's the first time I ever drank that brand. It's powerful stuff."

ND Now Paces Organization

DAYOTN — (AP) — North Dakota is leading the states in its grass-roots organization drive to harvest for the needy abroad, the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP) reported today.

Officials of the Inter - Church Overseas Relief agency announced that one-third of the agricultural counties in the nation's top 35 farming states are set for the harvest campaign.

CROP hopes to fill 3,500 railroad cars with bulk commodities. Its drive is on a farm-to-farm, county-to-county basis. The windup is scheduled for late October or early November. Major farm, church and civic organizations are represented on the local campaign committees.

Haiti's Grand Exposition Heralds Dawn of a New Era

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti. — (AP) — President Dumarsais Estime is planning to give Haiti the biggest show it ever saw — a $5,000,000 international exposition.

The exposition opens Dec. 8 in brand new buildings on 60 acres formerly a slum area. Estime turned the district, once an eyesore just east of the city, into a garden spot of dazzling beauty. It has magnificent buildings, gardens and avenues overlooking the Bay of Gonave.

As minister of education a few years ago, Estime made himself famous by putting Haiti's disorganized school system in order and requiring teachers to get to work on time. He introduced directed play and sports activites.

As president, Estime says he is trying to put backward little Haiti on its way to progress. The exposition is part of that program.

All construction work for the exposition has not been finished, but Haitians say everything will be ready in time. The show celebrates the 200th birthday of Port Au Prince, the capital city.

Haiti hopes the exposition will bring thousands of visitors, make the country better known throughout the world, and create new markets for Hati's handcraft, industrial and agricultural products.

After the exposition ends — it may run as long as six months — the buildings will be converted to house government offices.

Exposition officials say hotel-faclities are adequate. Special tours will be organized to take visitors to such sights as the citadel, a mountain top fortress built by Henri Christophe, once king of the Negro nation. The citadel is considered one of the world's wonders.

The United States Cuba, Venezuela, Italy, France, Mexico, Chile, Ecuador, Guatemala, Uruguay, Argentina, Holland, Belgium and Puerto Rico are among the score or more of nations and territories which have announced exhibits and participation in the show.

Slight Error Bared At Zoo

CINCINNATI — — It looks like a lonely winter for M'Golo, the young gorilla at the Cincinnati zoo.

When M'Golo was brought here during the summer his intended mate was left in New York to recover from an illness. But zoo officials learned yesterday that M'Golo will have to remain a bachelor, at least for a while.

It developed that the young lady gorilla in New York actually is another young man gorilla.

State Eases Traffic Law

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Starting tomorrow you don't have to stop your car for a school bus loading or unloading children on a four lane highway in Ohio.

A new law which goes into effect requires school bus drivers to pickup and discharge students on the side of the road on which they live.

But Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the state highway patrol, appealed to motorists to be careful just the same.

Motorists still must stop for Ohio school buses on highways of three lanes or less whether they are approaching or following buses loading or unloading children.

Lucas Seeks School Levy Continuance

Board Supporting 3-Mill Replacement

LUCAS — Voters in the Lucas school district will ballot in the November election on a special three mill levy aimed to replace the present three mill levy that expires this year.

The Lucas Board of Education is actively campaigning for passage of the levy that represents about 15 per cent of the total revenue that is used in the school's operation.

They point out that increased enrollment has led to increased expense including the hiring f two additional teachers in the past three years, and that the outlook for expenditure in coming years is little changed

School officials stress that in asking for the levy they are not seeking increased revenue but merely a continuance of the same operating capital.

ROAST LOIN OF PORK

Have backbone loosened from ribs so that carving will be easy. Season with salt and pepper and place with the fat side up, bones down, in an open roasting pan. Make an incision and insert a meat thermometer so that the center of the bulb reaches the center of the fleshiest part of the meat. Put the roast in a moderate oven (350° F.) and cook without covering and without adding water. It will be done when the meat thermometer registers 185° F. Allow about 30 min. per lb. for roasting. Make a gravy from part of the drippings and season it with sage.

Area Court Upholds Judgment

Affirms Decision Of County Jury

The Fifth district appeals court yesterday upheld a Common Pleas court jury which awarded 11-year-old Charles Daniel Bradley, Warren road, a $13,200 judgment.

The boy was injured when he fell out of a city bus last year. The action on behalf of the boy originally asked $50,000 from Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., which operated the bus. The bus firm appealed the court decision.

Writing the affirmative opinion were Judges Charles Montgomery, Newark; and C. B. McClintock, Canton. Judge Robert Putnam, Millersburg, wrote a separate dissenting opinion.

Attorneys Robert L. Ross, Mansfield, and E. W. Thomas, Cleveland, represented the defendant and Joseph A. Bayer and John O'Donnell the plaintiff.

The boy's petition contended that he had gone to the door of a city bus to get off and that the door opened when the bus rounded a curve near the Empire Steel plant, throwing him onto the pavement. He suffered permanent injuries, the petition charged.

The Appeals court continued two of the three cases it was scheduled to hear.

Yesterday the court heard the case of Pete DiSanze, 19 Wolfe avenue, vs. Tracy R. and Ethel M. Charles, 126 Benton street. Common Pleas court had previously ruled in DiSanze's favor.

The question was whether he violated allotment restrictions in building his $22,000 house at the northwest corner of Dickson parkway and Brae Burn.

Continued was the case of Inez F. Dibble vs. Jewell C. Dibble to decide who is entitled to the estate of the late Herbert L. Dibble, president of the Carton Service, Inc. The estate involves $32,580.

The other case is that of Alice M. Richard, administrator of the estate of M. F. Crawford vs. Frank J. Dalton.

Thief Nabs Wheels Off Santa's Sleigh

MIDDLETOWN — (AP) — It's a good thing it still is more than two months until Christmas or Santa Claus might have to walk in the Middletown fire department's annual Christmas party for the city's youngsters.

Jack Clark, chairman of the entertainment committee, discovered yesterday the wheels had been stolen from Santa's sleigh. The sleigh, equipped with wheels for those days with no snow, has been stored on a city-owned farm.

Crack Down On Gaming

NEWPORT, Ky. — (AP) — The lid on gambling in Newport was clamped down yesterday.

City Manager Oscar Resch ordered Police Chief George Gugel "to see that the existing order on no gambling be strictly enforced."

Gugel told newsmen he will order the vice squad to "make certain that if there are any violations, they end immediately."

The action followed charges Tuesday by City Commissioner Ray W. Chambers that a "Cleveland syndicate" had moved into Newport gambling spots.

Chambers said he had demanded Hesch to stop all gambling in the city yesterday.

In answer to Chambers' statement that he had received complaints from Newport residents that they were "being pushed out of their jobs at the night clubs and replaced by the Cleveland gang," an attorney for several of the resorts told newsmen:

"There are no Cleveland people here. Some 15 years ago there was a 'money' man from that city who joined one of the county's establishments, but he is no longer here and now is residing in Florda."

The attorney declined use of his name.

Bargain Sale of Players' Tickets Will Close Oct. 31

There are only two weeks left for Mansfielders to get their three Community Plays for the price of two, E. D. Gibson, president of the Players, said today.

The season membership drive, which opened the first of the month, closes Oct. 31. Memberships, at $3 each, entitle the holder to all three productions of the season which will open Nov. 1 and 2 with "Blithe Spirit" the sophisticated Noel Coward comedy under the direction of Burns Kattenber .

Memberships are now on sale at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, Farmers bank, Richland Trust bank and at the Gibson garage on Park avenue east. Orders for memberships may be mailed to E. D. Gibson at 217 Park avenue east.

The opening of the season next month marks the 24th year the Players have presented amateur theatricals in the city. The second production of the season is favored as "Another Part of the Forest" and the third production will depend upon latest releases on Broadway comedies.

Now in the final phases of production, "Blithe Spirit" is being rehearsed every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at the courthouse.

Use soap and water to wash refrigerator ice trays. Never use metal sponges, steel wool or coarse powders. Never use boiling water as it will remove surface film which helps make it easy to remove ice cubes.

Ohio Protests Solicitation By Canadian Stock Brokers

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio wants the postmaster general to stop Canadian brokers unregistered in the state from soliciting Ohioans by mail.

Ernest Cornell, head of the State Divsion of Securities, made the request in a letter to Postmaster General Jesse M Donaldson, Washington. Cornell said:

"For the past several years the residents of Ohio have been victimized by solicitations and sale of oil, gas and mining securities by Canadan brokers who have not registered the securities and who are not licensed to sell securities in Ohio.

The Canadian brokers are using the mails in the artifice or scheme to defraud and the volume of the literature sent into Ohio is tremendous.

"We appeal to your department to assist by closing the points of entry to these persons unless they comply with federal laws regulating sale of securities in this country and the various state laws enacted for that purpose."

Cornell said the division has issued 143 orders to halt such sales since 1943. Thirty-three of them were issued this year. The division also has obtained indictments against Canadian brokers but can't extradite them for prosecution. Maximum penalty for state securities law violations is five years in prison and $5,000 fine.

Meat Packer Bares Hoax

Sold Herd of 'Dwarf' Cattle

BILLINGS, Mont. — (UP) — A meat packer claimed that he sold animal trainer Gene Holter the five dwarf Hereford cattle that Holter said he found in a lost canyon.

The packer, who refused to be quoted by name, said he bought the cattle from rancher Kendall Shaules of Ballantyne, Mont.

Shaules confirmed that he sold the packer five miniature Herefords standing just 24 to 28 inches in height and averaging 200 pounds.

He said the cattle could be identified by tattooed brands in their ears.

Holter, 27, claimed at Jamestown, N. D., this week that he found the cattle in a "lost canyon" 1,000 miles southwest of here. He plans to exhibit them as freaks.

The packer said he sold the five dwarfs to Holter last Sept. 26 when the animal trainer passed through here on a tour with a donkey baseball team.

Shaules said dwarf cattle were becoming "more common all the time" among Hereford and Angus cattle.

TIFFIN—(INS)—A Tiffin newspaper boy accused by customers with failing to deliver papers to their homes has been given a clean bill of health by the city's police department.

MOSCOW — (AP) — Virtually all key posts in the American embassy in Moscow have changed hands in the last few months, or are scheduled for changes soon.

The most important newcomer, of course, is the new American Ambassador Alan G. Kirk. Kirk arrived here in late

Other newcomers include:

A new minister-counselor of embassy, a half-dozen first, second or third secretaries of embassy and a new chief of the United States Information service office in Moscow.

Other changes scheduled to take place in the near future include: a new naval attache, a new air attache, and a new assistant military attache.

The post of minister-counselor is [illegible] importance and rank only to that of the ambassador himself. The new appointee is Walworth Barbour, a veteran foreign service officer [illegible] Moscow July. He replaced counsellor of embassy Foy Kohler, who was also charge d'affaires ad interim during the six months period when in United States ambassador was present in Moscow.

The extremely rapid personnel turnover in the embassy is not restricted to the top posts alone.

By the end of this year two-thirds of all the persons who are assigned to the Moscow embassy by the State department, the army, navy and air force will have been in the Soviet capital less than 12 months. Most of these people will have been here less than six months.

None of the top policy men in the embassy [illegible] in Moscow on previous tours of duty. None of them has been associated [illegible] formulation of the policy of the state department towards the Soviet Union, except indirectly, prior to their assignment.

It would be incorrect, however, to say that these new embassy leaders are unacquainted with problems of Soviet policy. Most of the new senior personnel have had no extensive training in the Russian language and have received intensive briefing in the State department before coming here.

Tygers Attack Ohio's Top Football Target

Cuff Stuff
By
Fred Tharp
News-Journal Sports Editor

SENIOR HIGH'S football Tygers have the best chance since the 1940 aggregation to do something about that long-standing Massillon jinx. . . . The current group of Bengals have the spirit and football savvy to turn the trick. . . . They have just as many veterans of former Tyger-Tiger clashes as the men of Washington high. . . . Both teams are rated in the top ten of Ohio's 500-odd high school teams. Massillon, as usual, has captured the public fancy and those magazine articles have the Tigers apparently right on top of the American schoolboy grid heap. . . . But it runs in memory that one famous coach said to his underdog charges, "They pull their pants on one leg at a time the same as you do." . . . There seems to be no reason that the present Mansfield crew cannot come out on top. . . . The enthusiasm which has been generated in town this week has the Tygers in the mental frame of mind to win. . . . It should be a great game.

★

MANSFIELD and Massillon started playing against each other in 1909 and the series lasted just four years. . . . Then there was a lapse until 1936. . . . Only in 1937, 1941 and 1946 have the Tygers tied the Massillons. . . . Several times Mansfield pushed the Tigers over the field but that winning score has been lacking. Here's a rundown of previous games:

	Mans.	Mass.
1909	0	18
1910	0	30
1911	5	8
1912	0	87
1936	7	40
1937	6	6
1938	7	33
1939	0	73
1940	0	38
1941	6	6
1042	0	32
1943	0	33
1944	0	6
1945	6	40
1946	12	12
1947	0	27
1948	7	33
1949	?	?

★

THAT 1944 contest got a mention in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. . . . The piece written by Paul Walker of the Columbus Dispatch is about Irish Krieger, one of the top officials. . . . On Massillon's disputed touchdown in the contest, a Mansfield fan rushed out of the stands and pasted the "ref" on the kisser. . . . Paul Snyder, then coaching at Senior high, is still moaning about that game. . . . "We pushed 'em all over the field and lost."

BEAT MASSILLON

We lost the first to Akron South,

We burned the next four's crust;

The time has come to load our guns

For Massillon is a MUST.

We gotta be rugged and ready,

And we gotta stand the test;

For our job is to down that "Tiger Town",

Let's prove that we're the BEST.

Richard B. Long,
Tappan Stove.

Onslow Stays As Sox Pilot

CHICAGO — (UP) — Jack Onslow was safe in his berth as manager of the Chicago White Sox today following several days' consideration of his future by club executives.

Charles Comiskey, Sox vice-president, issued a statement yesterday in which he said:

"After due deliberation Frank Lane and I are in agreement that Jack Onslow will be retained to fulfill his present contract to manage the White Sox through 1950."

12 Veterans Boost Tiger Grid Stock

Mansfield's football Tygers will train their heavy artillery on the ripest target in Buckeye schoolboy circles tomorrow night when they invade Massillon for a game with the undefeated Washington high school Tigers.

Picked by the sports writers as the outstanding team in the state, Washington high will field a lineup boasting 12 lettermen off the squad which won the 1948 state championship. Grid teams of Mansfield and Massillon are about even in weight when the offensive teams are on the field.

The Massillon lads have picked up an aura of cockiness in sweeping everything before them for the past two years and figure they can take over Mansfield with the same ease as in 1947 and 1948 when they turned the trick by four touchdowns each time.

Every member of the Massillon starting lineup is a veteran while the 12th letterman—Ray Lane—is a second straight halfback.

The veterans and their weights follow: Ends—Don Slicker, 160, and Don Studer, 163; tackles—Jerry Krisher, 220, and Jim Schumacher, 190; guards—James Reichenbach, 203, and Dick Shine, 158; center—Ronald Patt, 171; backs—Irvin Crable, 150; Dick Jacobs, 160; Don James, 150, and Clarence Johnson, 186

Crable, though only in his second year of varsity football, is a senior and the "darling" of the Massillon attack. He's fast and shifty and leads the Tiger scoring with 11 touchdowns. He scored three times against Alliance last week on runs of 31, 28 and 38 yards. In addition he tossed a 41-yard touchdown pass to Don Slicker.

ALL CAN PASS

Massillon has relied on a running attack but each member of the starting backfield has tossed passes upon occasion. However, Don James, brother of the more famous Tommy, is the No. 1 Tiger passer. He has good targets in Don Slicker and Joe Gleason, who will probably replace Studer at one end. Gleason is a 155-pound junior.

All the Tiger backs carry plenty of speed and Johnson, the big right half, is the power boy. Massillon experts say that Johnson has reached his playing potential in only one game in three years. That was last year when he almost single handedly wrecked Mansfield in that 33-7 drubbing.

Several of the Massillon players suffered slight colds this week but all will be ready to go tomorrow. Schumacher and Jacobs practiced for the first time yesterday but appear ready for action. However, Art Duke, a 181-pound senior, may get the call in place of Schumacher. Duke has never started for the Tigers but showed to good advantage in a relief role against Alliance last week.

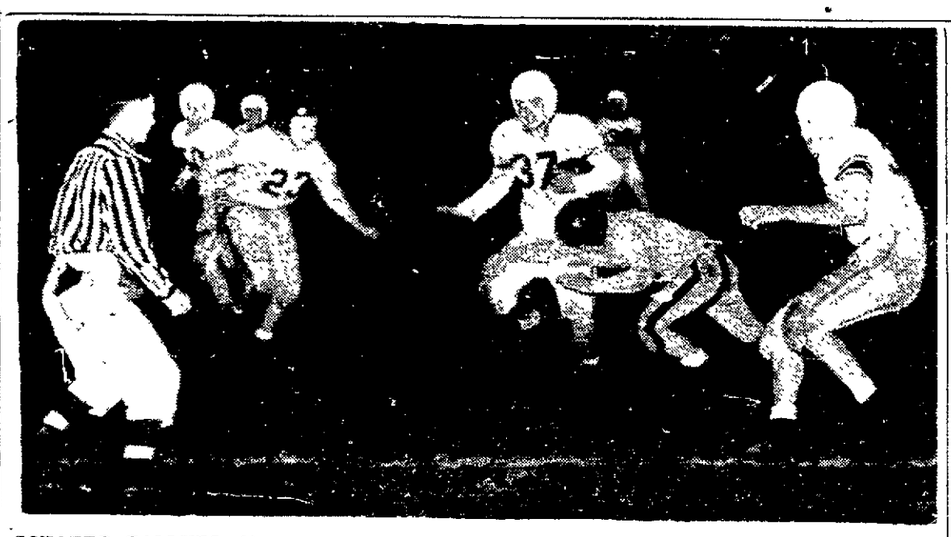
The biggest change in the Massillon defensive setup will be when Glenn Tunning, giant sophomore, goes in the center of the line. Tunning weighed 242 when practice started this fall but has pared his weight down to 230.

Massillon uses the T formation and most of the play patterns which the Mansfield team affects.

Johnson and Jacobs will be playing their third time against Mansfield, while Krisher, Reichenbach, Crable, Johnson and End Walt Houston started last year. Jacobs, James, Patt, Studer, Slicker and Schumacher appeared on the field as subs.

EIGHT STARTERS

Eight Mansfield players have started games against Massillon. Tom Tucker and Jim Miller will be in at the start of their third game against the Tigers. A. C. Jenkins started in 1947 but subbed last year and became the No. 1 Tyger ball carrier. Others who have started against Massillon are: Ends Ed Damyan and Jack Bargahiser, Tackle Tom Weaver, Guard Howie Tipper and Center Walt Maurer Don Cline, Esker Jordan and Clarence Bailey have subbed against the Tigers.



SCHAFER GALLUPS—Simpson's ace halfback Jim Schafer (37) breaks into the Bellville secondary for an eight-yard gain in the first quarter of of last night's second game which the Bulldogs took from Bellville, 27-0. On the play Schafer advanced from his own 48 to the Bellville 44-yard line. (News-Journal Staff Photo).

Strong Massillon Outfit Plays Rangers On Sunday

The Mansfield Rangers will be host to what is probably Ohio's toughest pro football team outside of major league ranks Sunday when they battle the Massillon Progressive Chevrolets at Stadium field.

The name "Massillon" alone is enough to make the Rangers tread carefully but the Progressives stand on their own record. They have not been beaten by an Ohio team since their organization in 1947 and have won seven straight contests this year.

As Sunday concludes Ohio Football league play, all Massillon has to do is beat or tie the Rangers to win the championship. However, should Mansfield upset the dope bucket, both teams would then have 5-1 records and a playoff would be necessary.

Both Mansfield and Massillon have several non-league games booked and a playoff would probably have to be held after that time.

A pair of scoreless ties against Steubenville and Youngstown back in 1947 are the only blots by Buckeye state clubs on the Massillon record. Three out-of-state teams administered the only defeats last year.

Generally, the Massillon squad is composed of four Washington high gridders with up to a half-dozen of them having been All-Ohio during their Tiger days. Al Brown, the teams leading scorer with 58 points, cavorted in the backfield for Massillon high only last year. Bert Webb, co-captain and halfback, was an All-Ohio choice in 1945. He stands third in scoring with 42 points to 49 for former John Carroll star John Pizzino.

WALLACE IS COACH

Bob Wallace, former Baldwin-Wallace gridder, is the Progressives coach, having taken over this year when Elwood Kammer resigned to become an assistant coach at the high school. Kammer had guided the team for two years.

In league games, Massillon has defeated: Sandusky, 20-0; Marion, 51-0; Bucyrus, 27-0; and Toledo, 60-0, and Akron, 18-0, all bigger scores than the Rangers ran up over the same teams. Prior to league play Massillon beat Tallmadge, 63-0 and the Akron Browns, 33-2.

Elsewhere in the Ohio league Sunday, the Toledo CIO all-stars play the Akron Bulldogs in Akron and the Bucyrus Green Hornets meet the Sandusky Maroons in Bucyrus. The Marion Angels are idle.

Boxing Card Completed For Amateur Show

Card for the first Friendly House amateur fight show of the 1949-50 season was completed today with the addition of three matches.

Ten bouts are now listed on the card which opens a winter-long schedule of boxing shows and tournaments at the Friendly House. The first show will be staged next Monday with Mike Wentz, F-H athletic director, acting as promoter. Coone Millier and Doc Whisler are the co-matchmakers.

Latest bouts are: Jack Davis, Marion, 114 vs Jack LaFollette, Akron, 115; Jack Armbruster, F-H, 137 vs Gerry Jacobs, Akron, 135 and Jack Seckinger, Marion, 146 vs Scott Mathias, Akron, 146. Seckinger is a veteran of many shows staged in Mansfield by the Friendly House and 40 et 8 club.

In addition, Miller today announced one substitution. Ollie Mayweather, Friendly House middleweight, will battle Willie Parker of Akron. Originally Mayweather was booked against Melvin Bowen of Akron.

Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at D. and M. Cigar store, Friendly house, Sandy Maxwell's, Hunt's News, Corner Lunch and City News. General admission and student tickets will not go on sale until the night of the fights.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla — Chico Pacheco 155 Rio de Janeiro, outpointed Sieve Sabatino 165, Brooklyn, 8

PHOENIX, Ariz — Charlie Salas, 144 Phoenix and Babe Herman, 140½, Los Angeles, drew, 10.

Shelby Seeks Third Victory In Loop Play

SHELBY — The Shelby Whippets will be after their third win in the Northern Ohio League when they travel to Bellevue Friday to oppose the Redmen on Harmon Field.

The battle will again place a light Whippet line against a heavy Bellevue eleven, also sporting a height advantage.

In addition to these advantages the Redmen are primed for the Shelby team since the Whippets eked out a 16-to-13 victory last year over Bellevue in the last few seconds on Junior Scheerer's field goal.

STRONG ATTACK

However, these facts will not be enough to win the ball game for Bellevue. The Whippets are strong offensively, having two of the league's fastest backs in Jim Berry and Clancy Fackler. The determining factor will be whether the light Whippet line can break open the Bellevue defense to place these boys in the secondary

On the other hand, Bellevue has three good backs in Rupert, DeBlase and Nasonti who have caused plenty of grief to the opposition this year.

All indications point to a close game with Shelby getting the nod. If the Whippet line and line backers can hold the Bellevue offensive in the early stages of the game the Redmen will show another loss in the league standings.

Bucyrus Plays At Crestline

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus high's Redmen will meet their second consecutive Crawford county rivals Friday night when they journey to Crestline for a Northern Ohio league football contest.

After three straight NOL defeats, the locals came to life last Friday night and walloped Galion, 19 to 0, for their first league win while Tiffin Calvert was turning back Crestline, 25 to 8, in a non-league encounter.

The Railroaders gave the Bucyrus championship eleven a tough battle last year, losing 19 to 7.

Bet Much Money

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Bettors at Ohio tracks wagered $30,652,496 on the ponies this year, the state racing commission reported yesterday.

Bissman's Hits Big 3,005 In Pin Loop

The City A league turned in its best bowling of the season last night as an even-half dozen members wrote their names on the honor roll. Scores were high all down the line as only nine of the 50 league keglers failed to make 500.

Bissman's had the high team score of the season—a 3,005. Art Hilborn was the spark of the outfit as he crashed through for his first honor mark of the season by blasting the pins for 223-246-188—657. Son Bob Hilborn came through with 200-193-219—612 and Bob Lynch tallied 206-171-239—616. Phil Warga and Floyd Messmore gave the top trio plenty of support with 551 and 569.

The top individual score of the night was racked up by Harold Selby who put together counts of 210, 190, and 265 for a 665 total. Carl Phillipon fired 627 for the same team, Mitsch's had a 2,977 count.

Glen Yingling of Liederkranz rounded out the honor roll list with 170-212-220—602. Other scores included: Joe DeYarmon, Deschner's Cabs, 586; Ken Carlisle, Deschner's, 585; Jake Streitmater, Liederkranz, 582; Hammy Johns, Ace Cabs, 578; Carl Heilman, Ace Cabs, 572; and Joe Harrod, Ideal Billiards, 533.

★

★

Dana Moxley led the Westinghouse A league with a 568 pin count. Other scores were: C. Penrose, 541; B. Hassinger, 529; R. Fadek, 524; Bob Eller, 515, Bob Gresmer, 511; and Ced Mathias, 507.

Arlene Peters of Saltzgaber Printing recorded 475, Lil LeMunyon of McCarrick's had 474, and Hon Wehinger, McCarricks, 462. Seats Are Added For Mat Program

More bleachers will be erected at the armory Saturday night for the Don-Eagle-Lord Blears wrestling match, Promoter Clete Kauffman announced today.

Kauffman expects one of the biggest crowds of the season and is "making every effort possible to accommodate all of the fans who wish to see the show." Two small bleacher seconds have already been procured.

Appleseed, Simpson Win Games at Arlin Field

Madison, Bellville Clubs Are Beaten

Prospects of one of the closest Appleseed-Simpson games in many years showed up last night as the two Mansfield junior highs swept a double-header football program at Arlin field.

Appleseed opened the show by trimming the Madison reserves, 21-6, after which Simpson blasted the Bellville seconds, 27-0.

Both teams showed high-powered offenses in both the running and passing departments. By comparative scores, the teams looked almost identical. Simpson had previously beaten Bellville, 27-0, while Simpson had trimmed Madison 20-6. Each had one additional touchdown called back last night, a 30-yard run by Jim Witzky of Appleseed and a 40-yard jaunt by W. B. Jones of Simpson.

★ ★ ★

Appleseed . . . .

A 69-yard march gave Appleseed its first score. Jim Witzky returned a punt 11 yards and Darce Shasky made 20 on a trap play. Witzky raced wide for 17 to the 22 and Ned Diemer bucked for two. Witzky went off guard and cutback for the tally.

Madison made the only other bid in the first half when it marched 50 yards to the Appleseed 16 only to lose the ball on a bobble.

Two penalties retarded Appleseed's 74-yard TD march in the third period. Shasky returned the kickoff 24 yards to the 50 but penalties moved the pigskin back 10 yards. Witzky made 13 on a pitch and two more plays gained only two yards. With fourth down and five on the 45, Shasky took a pitch-out, then cutback prettily and outraced the secondary for the score.

The Ram cubs quickly got back into the game when Grant Milliron with third down and 11, went off tackle and cutback through the surprised Pioneers for 81 yards and a TD.

Appleseed pounded to the six in the third quarter and scored in three plays after Appleseed punted out. Shasky went the last 20 yards on a sweep.

Except for the 81-yard run, Appleseed's defensive crew permitted only a net gain of 25 yards.

Simpson . . . .

Simpson completely outmanned Bellville as its ace runners, Benny Carbetta and Jim Schafer ran wild. W. B. Jones got off to several good sprints late in the game and Quarterback Paul Jaynes completed four out of six "official" passes. Actually he made good on his first five in a row but the fifth was called back by a penalty.

Carbetta scored the teams first two touchdowns. He circled left end and scored from the 37-yard line in the first quarter before Bellville ever got its hands on the ball. In the second period he ran the same play over from the Bellville 14-yard line.

Schafer got only one touchdown, a seven yard smash through center which climaxed a 42-yard sustained drive in the third period. Twenty five of those yards had been eaten up by Carbetta on one play.

W. B. Jones got in for the fourth score on a 23-yard trap play.

New London 11 Plays At Huron

NEW LONDON — For the second straight week, the New London Wildcats will take the field minus the services of Orrie Close and Eddie Mack, both backfield men, when they play at Huron Friday night. Both were injured several weeks ago in games and practice sessions.

Huron and New London began grid relations last year with New London taking a 19-7 victory.

Twin Bill Grid Notes

BY EL TIGRE JR.

Mansfield's two junior high school grid teams compared their wares on the gridiron last night in separate contests, at Arlin field, both romping over the opposition, and one fact stood out:

The city title match between Johnny Appleseed and John Simpson next Wednesday should be a thriller.

Appleseed unleashed an attack featuring clever ball handling and trickery in knocking off Madison high's seconds 20-6, while Simpson's Bulldogs chewed Bellville 27-0.

The Pioneers didn't pile up such a tremendous score against Madison's "Ramlets" but lost several scoring chances through penalties. Pioneers Darce Shasky and Jim Witzky blazed a trail through the Ramlet defense to roll up 297 yards on the ground. Nullified by penalties, however, were 140 additional yards in sparkling runs which in each case ended with the ball either deep in Madison territory or over the Ramlet goal line.

Simpson's bulldogs safe with a two-touchdown lead, took to the air at will and rolled over the smaller Bellville eleven. Benny Carbetta and W. B. Jones, shifty Bulldog backs, eased through the Bellville line as though coated with butter.

Next Wednesday's scrap should be rugged and will provide Mansfielders with a good look at future Tyger stars.

The "Beat Massillon" pep rally and bonfire got off to a flaming state (ouch!) at halftime of the Simpson-Bellville fracas, and youngsters poured from the stands by the hundreds.

For the entire second half, the two teams battled it out before a scanty crowd while the huge bonfire roared, students cheered and the band played at the rally east of the gridiron.

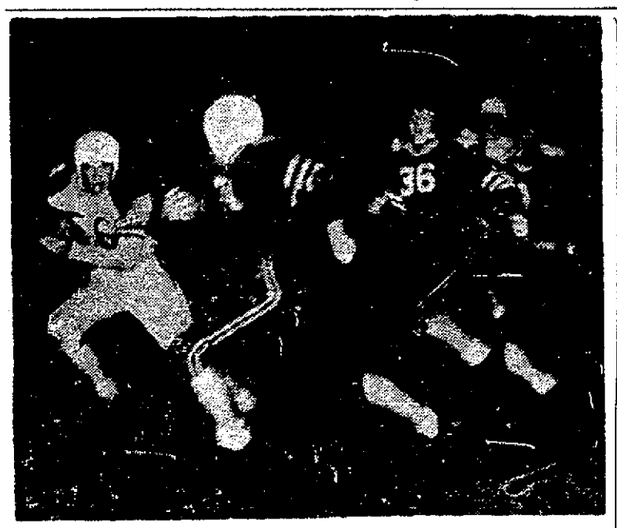
Feverish Tyger football fans took grim pleasure in kicking the stuffing out of a Massillon effigy before it found its way into the heart of the bonfire.

Whispered comment on "Pink Lightning", rumored to be a new Tyger secret weapon, swept the press box in the second game of the double-header, but a little investigation disclosed that the "Pink Lightning" was a tube of luscious red lipstick lost by one of the girl fans!

At half-time of each game, grade and junior high youngsters blanketed the field, ripping up sod where they slid around and cluttering the gridiron with papers and trash.

The teams had trouble finding enough space to maneuver in as they came out for warm-ups and many fans protested against the kids being allowed to take over the field.

"There are thousands of dollars invested on that field," one fan snapped, "and it should be better protected."



SHASKY SCORES—Appleseed's third touchdown was scored by Darce Shasky (24) on a pitchout in the fourth quarter which climaxed a 52-yard march. Shasky is circling left end at the start of the run in the above photo. Appleseed won 21-6. (News-Journal Staff Photo).

Madison Uses Open Date To 'Patch Up' Grid Club

Madison high school is taking advantage of an open date this week to "patch up" its football team in preparation for next week's home-coming battle with Bellville.

Coach Ennis Walker, although thankful for the one-week breather, is not taking advantage of it for contact drill. "We're trying to keep the few boys we have left in good condition for the final three games," he said.

Two more injuries crooped up in last Friday's Loudonville game. Tackle Bruce Armstrong broke a bone in his hand and Guard Lloyd Rissler got a badly bruised shoulder. Both will probably be able to see a little action next week although Armstrong will have to wear his hand in a cast.

LATEST INJURIES

The two latest injuries only End Russ Glenn, Tackle Norm Walker and Center Bob McLaughlin still at the positions where they started the season. Counting Armstrong, three who started on the first 11 now are wearing casts. Ed Chelski, quarterback, is out for the season after a wrist operation and Guard Bill Remy plays offense with a cast on his arm.

End Ed Locke is also out for the season with a collarbone injury and his replacement Kenny Woerth was operated on Tuesday for a torn cartilage in his knee. Woerth's injury hurt the basketball team worse than the football for he may not be able to play the cage sport this year. He was being counted upon as the varsity center.

Willard's League Lead Seems Safe Against Norwalk

Powerful Willard's Northern Ohio league lead appears safe this week as the Railroaders invade Norwalk in quest of their fifth straight victory.

Norwalk has won only two of four league starts and are not expected to give the undefeated Railroaders much of a problem. Second-place Upper Sandusky invades Galion while Shelby travels to Bellevue and Bucyrus battles at Crestline in other games.

League standings show Shelby to have the top defensive record despite its third place standing of only two victories and one defeat. The Whippets have had only 21 points scored against them against 51 tallied on Willard. Crestline, in the league basement with three defeats, has only 39 points scored against it.

Lou Gregorio Inks Class B A's Contract

Little Lou Gregorio, the former Senior high school football and baseball star, has apparently taken another fast step up the ladder in his pro baseball career.

Gregorio, who finished the season with Youngstown in the Class C Mid-Atlantic league last year, was informed yesterday that he will be sent to a Class A or B team in 1950. He is owned by the Philadelphia Athletics.

SCOUT HERE

Pat Donahue, chief of the A's scouting system, had a four-hour conference with Gregorio at his home here yesterday and signed him to a Class B contract for next year. He ordered Gregorio to report to the Philadelphia farm training camp at West Palm Beach, Fla., next February. After three weeks of advance training there he will be assigned to a club.

Gregorio graduated from Senior high school last spring after pitching the Tygers to two district championships. His top moment came in 1948 when he threw two consecutive no-hit games in the last two games of the district tournament. Later that year he helped the Mansfield American Legion juniors to work their way into the state tournament. He lost a 10-inning pitching duel in the state finals.

Findlay Needs One Win To Take League Crown

ASHLAND—October 29 looms as a red-letter day in the Mid-Ohio league, the Buckeye state's newest collegiate athletic circuit.

On that date, the Findlay Oilers venture to Defiance to meet the Yellow Jackets of Defiance College in a game that is expected to officially decide the MOL's first football champion.

John Henning's Findlay eleven rolled to its third straight league victory last week, bowling over Cedarville by a score of 42-0.

And while the Oilers were keeping their league record intact, Ashland college—with only faint hopes of overtaking the Oilers—kept in the running by scoring an 18-0 decision over Defiance.

While comparative scores mean nothing, the Oilers—on the basis of same—must be regarded as the odds-on favorites to squeeze past Defiance. And if they do, the MOL championship will be theirs.

But if Defiance, an outfit that has lost its first five outings, puts the skids under Findlay, there's a good chance the Oilers will finish in a first-place tie with Ashland's Eagles. However, the Eagles would have to turn back Bluffton on Nov. 12 to bring about a deadlock.

Ashland should have no troubpsmin disposing of Bluffton, for Coach A. C. Burkey's Beavers—like Defiance—are also looking for their first win of the '49 campaign. The Beavers dropped their fourth straight in bowing to Olivet, 27-6, over the weekend. The six points the Beavers got against Olivet represented Bluffton's first score of the year.

NO ACTIVITY

There's no MOL activity on tap this week. All five schools will see action in non-league games. Findlay will venture to Tiffin to meet mighty Heidelberg, Ashland will furnish Hiram's Terriers their homecoming opposition. Defiance will meet Detroit Tech in the Motor City, Cedarville will play host to Huntington and Ohio Northern will invade Bluffton. All games are billed for Saturday.
